provisions absolutely necessary to a properly constructed tourists' camp are:

- 1 Safe water supply.
  - 2 Proper disposal of sewage, human excreta, garbage and other waste.
  - 3 Enforcement of measures providing for the prevention and control of communicable diseases.
- The camps are to be regularly inspected by the County Health Officer and when the laws or the rules and regulations of the State Board of Health are not observed, permission to operate a tourist camp will be revoked. Inasmuch as the tourists must be reckoned with, it is imperative that measures for their protection be strictly enforced. These rules and regulations are established to conserve the pleasure and well being of the community. Every tourist camp must meet reasonable standards of decency, cleanliness and sanitation. Every camp operating in the State is required to post a certificate of inspection as well as copies of the law and rules and regulations of the State Board of Health. This year it is reasonable to expect a million tourists and it will be necessary to guarantee them sanitary campgrounds. After May 1st, no tourists' campground will be allowed to operate without a certificate of inspection.

This Weeks Cross Word Puzzle

"Hello!" This cross-word puzzle hails from Newport, Oregon. It is dedicated to Miss Lola Millen, Long Beach, California. The arranger, Mr. Earl L. Wright, claims that it beats anything and everything except a carpet. We don't know whether it would beat everything but a carpet, but we do know that it is a mighty good puzzle. It's easy, interesting, and has a nice design. If you can't work it out in 45 minutes you are not so good, because the longest word in the puzzle has only six letters.

using silver instead of paper money! When John Sherman said that the way to resume specie payment is "to resume," he proclaimed a fact so old and so commonplace that financiers and statesmen had overlooked it. That is the case now; the way to use silver is to use it, and the business of silver mining will come back to par.

Though silver has not reached a satisfactory price, this year promises to be a better silver year than 1924. Silver is still the world's choice for hard money; the silverless nations promise to take more for coinage this year than during the past few years. Lead, copper, and zinc, the metals with which silver is almost invariably found will be benefitted by a greater use of silver.

Wherever state insurance has gained a foothold politics has entered to play havoc with the system. Favoritism in rates, favoritism in settlements, inefficiency due to political appointments and all the other customary weaknesses have crept in. I do not believe in government ownership of insurance business. I do believe in the principal that advancement in the future must come from private initiative—Congressman Underhill.

COLLEGE LOCATES SEED SOURCE SAFEGUARDING THE TOURISTS' CAMPS

The college has taken pains to locate reliable sources of Grimm seed and this information is passed out to county agricultural agents. In many counties dealers have cooperated in handling seed that is known to come from an absolutely reliable source. The trend toward pure seed has been aided by the fact that county agents encourage their growers to send seed samples to the experiment station at Corvallis where purity and germination tests are made free of charge.

Two conditions prevent the rapid introduction of this plant—the high price of seed, ranging around 50 cents a pound retail, and the rather widely prevailing practice of using a large amount of alfalfa seed on soil indifferently prepared. Fifteen to 20 pounds of common strains are placed on an acre by most growers. Some use 30 pounds and occasionally 40. There are 220,000 seeds in a pound of alfalfa.

STANDARD FORMULA FOR WHITE WASH

This is the common standard formula for white wash taken from maintenance of way rule book, page 181, paragraph 2198, and used by the O. S. L.

It is now possible to travel from New York to Portland, Oregon, and from Mexico to Canada by motor car, and in some cases, on a very moderate salary. Millions of people now travel by automobile to the remotest parts of this country reached by roads. Disease always follows the line of travel. Epidemics move from place to place as infected people move. Until recently it was possible to institute control measures that would effectively prevent the introduction of infectious diseases into new territory, but with universal automobile traffic it has been necessary to enact new legislation governing the condition of tourists' campgrounds. The health of the people of Oregon is very important and we owe it to ourselves to take care of it. In order to protect ourselves we must provide first class sanitary conditions for the tourist.

Auto tourist camps during the last few years have increased tremendously in number so that now in the State of Oregon there are hundreds of camps. A number of these camps can be considered model camps such as white many of them are merely cleared camping sites with no sanitary provisions whatever. The Legislature of the State of Oregon, realizing that a stricter supervision of tourists' camps was necessary, enacted a law providing for the regular inspection of these camps. The tourist camps have an economic value to the community. While the money the tourists bring has attracted attention, the Oregon State Board of Health is concerned with the sort of health that these travelers bring into the State and the kind of health they acquire while within our boundaries. Any epidemic arising in a camp would be an unfortunate occurrence.

Measures required to safeguard tourists' auto campgrounds and the communities where they are located, are well known but the problem as a whole is not so simple. The sanitary
