

THE HERALD.

(Entered as second class mail matter at Burns.)

LOCAL NEWS—HARNEY VALLEY.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1887.

—Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day in Burns, also.

—A hop in Burns Hall tomorrow night, so it is reported.

—Legal Notices of all kinds put up in first-class shape, on time, and with no typographical errors.

—One cord of wood is already delivered on subscriptions, and there is room for many more on the same terms, as wood is as useful as cash.

—T. Sillman of Burns, secured the requisite number of signatures to a petition to open a saloon; the stand selected is the building adjoining the postoffice.

—F. Gibblin is completing an addition to his business house for residence; and has the foundation of the brewery dug, with a well of good water in one corner of it.

—V. J. Miller, one of the enterprising young business men of Harney City was in Burns Monday last, and added his name to our advertising and subscription lists.

—The painter, Mr. Newland, who has finished a job of house painting on the Pranch, is hauling the lumber for building a dwelling in Burns, for himself, wife and two little girls.

—The weather as we go to press, is as bright and clear as the most fastidious search for a delightful climate would discover; more can not be said of the boasted charms of Italian weather.

—Mrs. M. A. Caldwell, of Burns, who enjoyed quite a pleasant outing the other week to Prairie City says snow on Bear Creek mountain (if such is the name of the mountain south of Canyon City) was about four inches deep.

—The dust that flies at any time and when least expected, is not one of the choicest blessings secured by a residence in East Oregon, but is preferable to the frequent fog that envelopes other fair regions of the inhabitable West.

—The German, who, with his family, temporarily occupies the Neil house, Mr. Locher, is engaged in digging a cellar for a neat house on the southeast corner of the block north of THE HERALD office; He has a well of fine water in the cellar.

—The program for Monday evening for next month opens with a masquerade ball on the 26th, when it is expected that the society people of Harney valley will all be present in Burns, and make it the great social event of the year 1887, now so near its close.

—John Witzell, who was so unfortunate as to lose a large number of his sheep through the sickness of his late herder, Thos. Bryant, has recovered 767 of the scattered band, and parties assisting in the search report having found where many sheep had been killed.

—In every section of Grant county a correspondent is wanted to furnish items of news concerning the weather, births, marriages, deaths, crops, improvements, stock reports, social events, etc. A copy of the paper gratis and payment of postage on all such communications will be made in acknowledgment.

—Mesdames P. F. Stenger, Thos. Whiting and J. C. Parker have sent in their subscriptions to THE HERALD and Peterson's Magazine for 1888. Mrs. Whiting subscribed also for Godey's Lady's Book. The readers' attention is called to our Clubbing Rates on first-page, and invitation is given to call in and see the specimen numbers on our desk.

—We had prepared for this edition an elaborate description of the town of Burns, but the enterprising spirit of the business men of the place has rendered it useless, as no article of the kind that is penned, can equal a live, liberal display of the advertising strength of the business men in the local newspaper. "Show me your local paper," says the modern Solon, "and I will describe your town and its people."

—The voice of Lakeview is heard in the EAST OREGON HERALD in unmistakable tones. Readers finding themselves near wide-awake Lakeview should visit each of the business men whose advertisement graces our columns, as they will be sure of a courteous reception and value received for their money. Public spirited men are rarely cut in manner, or "too close" in their dealings.

—"HERALD PRINTING OFFICE" is the handsomely lettered sign painted for us by Messrs. Berger & Waddell, Portland, Or., and is stretched across the front of our 18x30 foot office, to readily direct the subscriber, advertiser, visitor, neighbor, friend, or stranger to a seat in a comfortable chair, where they will find a pleasant and agreeable reception.

SETTLERS' ATTENTION!

Your attention is called to the two articles in this issue, "The Herald's Position," and "Prospectus of the East Oregon Herald," in reply to the efforts of the Harney Items to prejudice you against the new paper by declaring it in their "wire in and wire out" way, a monopolists' publication, so that they can continue to monopolize the Settlers' land publications.

—The signatures of citizens were cheerfully affixed to the petition for saloon license of C. M. Caldwell, because he is known as a man that is able and willing to run the business within the meaning of the law; permitting neither drunkard nor minor to frequent his saloon. The location is opposite the postoffice.

—To Mrs. Thos. Haskell, near Burns, we are indebted for a fine roll of butter, and cut of rich cheese, samples of the articles furnished her town customers. We, also, take occasion to acknowledge a very pretty bouquet of late garden flowers grown by this lady and presented THE HERALD, so soon as the establishment of the paper was decided upon. A small courtesy in itself, but breathing a hospitable welcome as fragrant as the scent of the blossoms, planted and tended by the kindly old hands.

—THE HERALD has had no opportunity hitherto to acknowledge the receipt of the wedding favors of J. Nat. Hudson and Miss Amanda Roel, who were married in Burns the 8th inst. The pleasant affair was very quiet, only a few intimate friends of the contracting parties being present. Mr. and Mrs. Hudson received friends the following week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Copshall. Mr. H. is now busily engaged in the agreeable task of building a home for his fair bride, where we trust they may enjoy the choicest gifts of life: health, wealth, and happiness.

The County Paper.

The little country paper is the best read paper in the world. No other paper contains the marriages, and deaths, to say nothing of divorces, and births. No other relates the accidents happening before the doors of the citizens. No other gives the time for the next ball, picnic, or political meeting. No other discusses the local affairs of town and county, the arrival of new goods, and the advance of improvements, progress of farm industries, excellence in vegetable products of the soil, and success in stock raising for dairy and stable. Without a paper, the town that has ever enjoyed a well-managed one, feels indeed the loss.—EX.

THE HERALD'S POSITION.

In reply to the repeated attempts of the Neutral Paper printed at this place, to excite prejudice, during the past two months, against our newspaper enterprise, in the minds of its subscribers in Harney Valley by publications (evidently based upon the result of our preliminary canvass for subscriber among settlers, stockmen, business men, and citizens generally), of malicious misrepresentations—by plausible innuendo, doubtful insinuation, direct lying, and threats to injure our business prospects—we will state a few facts regarding our own affairs to our readers.

1st. THE HERALD is our own individual enterprise, owned, published and edited by us, D. L. Grace, and by no other man, and we alone are responsible for any position it assumes, its sentiments, and make-up. The money paid for the material was advanced us, as a loan, by our son, the druggist here, W. E. Grace, whom we shall repay as the office earns the means—not one dollar was paid for one type, or other implement of our trade by any other man.

2d. THE HERALD is Neutral in Nothing—Independent in all things—Straight-out Democratic when Party Lines are drawn.

3d. THE HERALD belongs to no man, nor set of men, but will be found advocating the Right side on every question, as we are able to view it.

4th. The Price of Subscription to THE HERALD is only $2.50 a Year in Advance, by Cash, or by Draft, or by any other mode, and the name of the subscriber, and number of names limited.
