

THE HERALD.

WHEN JIMMY PULLS THE STRING.

SOLO BY LEVI.
Some people don't admire us, they call us wooden men.
And liken us to dummies—yes, to dummies, me and Ben!
But we have been waiting for the coming of our king.
And O, you ought
To hear us shout,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

CHORUS OF RED REPUBLICANS.
When Jimmy pulls the string,
When Jimmy pulls the string,
We dance and sing like everything,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

Up to the present writing we've been lying kinder low,
For when the chieftain isn't by our motto is, "Go slow."
But now the hands about to play, the bells are going to ring—
There's bound to be
A jamboree,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

CHORUS: When Jimmy pulls the string, etc.
SOLO BY LEVI.
O, I've been called a hoodoo, and Ben's been called a jay,
Because when asked to give our views we didn't know what to say;
You see, we're not accustomed quite to all this sort of thing,
But you will find
We know our mind,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

CHORUS: When Jimmy pulls the string, etc.
SOLO BY BEN.
Yes, Levi has been puzzled and I have been perplexed,
When politicians asked us what the party would do next,
But now the clouds of doubt have fled, the sun's illuminating,
We see our way.
As clear as day,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

CHORUS: When Jimmy pulls the string, etc.
DUET.
The days of hesitation and uncertainty are over,
And things are going to rustle as they never did before,
We've only been a crouching, but now you'll see us spring,
Beware of us—
We're dangerous,
When Jimmy pulls the string.

CHORUS: When Jimmy pulls the string, etc.
WITTIOLISM.
Smith—Why, excuse me, sir,
But that is the umbrella I lost.
Brown—Excuse me. This is the umbrella I found.

Tramp—Madam, will you give me something to eat?
Madam—I kin give you an old vest, if you want it.
"Madam, do you take me for a goat?"

Doctor—You don't mean to tell me that old Sawbones charged you $15 for cutting off your arm?
Man—Yes, $15.

Doctor—Now, why didn't you send for me? I would have cut off both your arms for less money than that!

"Willie," sorrowfully observed a little girl to her juvenile adorer, "papa says I'm too young to have a sweetheart, and I must quit running out and playing with you. He says you mustn't come here so much."

"I'm not afraid of your papa, Katie," said Willie stoutly, "He needn't think he can scare me because he is a big dealer in lumber."

"Yes, but he deals in shingles, Willie, big flat shingles."

"That's so," said Willie, turning sadly away.

Here is an anecdote which those who have been in the Far West and have lived among the frontier men will appreciate. In the course of the Indian war of 1882 Gen. Sherman paid a visit to Camp Apache, in Arizona. While there a huge redskin, who was captain of the scouts, followed the general where-soever he went, and frequently begged as a present one of the small cannons standing on the parade ground. Finally the general impatiently turned to the Indian, exclaiming:

"What do you want with the cannon? Do you want to kill my soldiers with it?"

"No," replied the Indian, "want to kill cowboys with it. Kill soldiers with a club."

A little girl was being instructed by her teacher in regard to the rulers of the world. She was told that in Europe the people were governed by kings and queens.

"And now," said the teacher, "who governs the people in this country?"

"Knives," answered the child, simply and promptly.

"Teaching school?"

"Teaching school? Why, you can't spell a word of two syllables!"

"I know that, but I can lick any two pupils together."

The two large editions of THE HERALD containing the Harney Valley advertisement being exhausted, to meet the demand we republish in our regular edition, and hope each reader will mark the article and mail his copy to a friend in the East.

Harney Valley in Grant county, Oregon, embraces an area of 2,400 square miles, or 1,536,000 square acres of land, bounded on every side by mountain ranges, and lofty elevations, and is an almost entirely level plain, plentifully watered by the SILVIES AND BLITZEN RIVERS and their tributaries. The former has its source in the spurs of the Blue mountains, south of the John Day river, flows a general southerly course, passing down the center of Harney valley, and empties into Lakes Harney and Malheur. It is a rapidly flowing stream, about 80 miles long, and contains every kind of fish, including the salmon trout, and other varieties of game fish. The Dunder-and-Blitzen river, or "Blitzen," as it is shortened by common usage, is about 50 miles in length, flows in a northerly direction and also empties into the lakes. These rivers and their numerous tributaries have their water sheds within the county, and the lakes having no outlet, serve to furnish subterranean irrigation to the whole valley.

LAKES HARNEY AND MALHEUR cover an area of more than 150 square miles, and are connected by a channel about 20 yards wide and 200 yards long. They receive the waters of both Silvies and Blitzen rivers, but have no outlet and never overflow. Being situated on a level plain, and having low shores, these lakes have not such picturesque scenery as Crater Lake, to recommend them to tourists, but their value to farmers is inestimable.

Right here, however, permit us to mention a natural attraction possessed by lands adjacent to these lakes that will draw hundreds of excursionists from the East in the near future: Standing in the doorway of farm houses about sunrise, distant objects, towns, farms, mountain peaks, and bands of cattle and horses grazing on the ranges, are pictured on the atmosphere and rise up from the ground like magic; and these white representations are so truly drawn that a member of a family living several miles away from home, can distinguish the persons of the family as they walk about the yard: as brother from father, or mother from sister.

THE SOIL AND CLIMATE of Harney valley are an exact counterpart of that of Umatilla county, Oregon, the best wheat-growing county in the state. Very little has been done towards wheat-raising here, as yet, but those have been successful that tried it. Wheat finds a ready home market at 5 cents a pound—$3 per bushel. Oats and barley grow equally well, and bring 3 to 44 cents per pound. Alfalfa and red clover grow luxuriantly; timothy and red-top thrive finely. Pasture is excellent; natural grass abundant, and is cut for hay that sells at $12 and $18 per ton in the winter. All cereal crops thrive.

WITHOUT IRRIGATION. In winter the weather is cold but pleasant, the usual effects of altitude being checked by the gentle chinook, or west wind. The snowfall is sufficient to preserve wheat and supply moisture that is not furnished by rains. In summer there is a pleasant breeze constantly blowing, which tends to keep agreeable weather, no matter how hot the sun's rays, and the nights cool enough to make covering desirable—in fact, one can sleep under cover comfortably the year round.

TIMBER.—SAW-MILLS. There is no timber in the valley, except along the water courses, where there is a light growth of birch and an unusually large, heavy growth of willows. But the adjacent mountains are heavily timbered with fir, pine, juniper, mountain-mahogany, etc. Saw-mills are located in the pineries, and the lumber, which is of the best quality, sells much cheaper than in the East.

GARDEN VEGETABLES produced in the Harney country are large, finely flavored, abundant and easily raised. We will on application give the addresses of several gardeners here, who will answer in detail all inquiries on that subject; the white, or Irish potato is grown with little cultivation, and is superior to that grown in Ohio, Illinois, Missouri, Tennessee, or Kansas, we personally know as regards size, "mealiness," and flavor.

SMALL FRUITS, such as strawberries, currants, blackberries, gooseberries, grapes, etc., will, from what evidence we have been able to gather the past year, be a success, as the native plants are hardy and good bearers.

FRUIT TREES and ornamental shrubs were planted freely by farmers in the spring; the settings last fall survived the severest winter (1888), that Harney valley, in fact, that East Oregon has ever known. As an AGRICULTURAL region it will be readily seen that the Valley offers inducements rarely excelled. And as a

STOCK-RAISING country it cannot be surpassed, since its water, grass, and salubrious climate takes horses, cattle, sheep and hogs throughout the year (from January 1 to December 31), without grain or any other than wild grass feeding, and when the winter is milder than common, stock looks better in early spring than in Eastern localities where they are grain-fed during the winter; and the texture and flavor of the meats compare favorably with the best in the market. The INCREASE IN POPULATION during the past two years has been rapid, and is of that most desirable class in an agricultural region, viz: the small farmer whose industry produces the best of grain, stock, and living. The houses and barns are generally frame; corrals and other enclosures, are rail and wire fencing; abundant water supplies from wells of living water, which is reached at a uniform depth of six to fifteen feet.

MAIL AND RAILROAD FACILITIES. Harney valley has a tri-weekly mail-service from the four points of the compass, there being a general distributing office at Burns. Shipping is done at present at Baker City, Huntington, and Ontario. All the family supplies, necessities, and luxuries, common to Eastern towns, are abundantly furnished by the general merchandise stores at reasonable rates.

BURNS AND HARNEY are the two principal towns of Harney valley, where, as will be seen by our advertising columns, about all lines of business are near equal to the present demand—teachers, lawyers, doctors, printers, druggists, merchants, carpenters, surveyors, blacksmiths, butchers, saddlers, grocers, builders, jewelers, etc.

Each of these two towns is the center of the section of the valley contiguous, and each has its local value, that will serve in the future to render a healthy degree of competition between them.

The expectations of the ambitious advocates of the natural advantages offered the people by Harney valley will be realized in less than twelve months by the establishment of a

NEW LAND OFFICE in Harney valley, where there are lands of the public domain as fine as those already taken up by the first-comers, sufficient to furnish thousands of families with homes. Also, a county-seat for

HARNEY COUNTY which will bring the administration of affairs pertaining to this great valley within easy access of every citizen of this section; and the OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD now in course of construction will pass directly through Harney valley, and after that what more is desirable?

Under these conditions it is not necessary to say that the first to procure homes will be the first to reap the harvest of the forehand, for the fact is self-evident. The invitation to come among us and settle is particularly extended to the industrious of all classes of farmers and stock-raisers.

The attention of the citizens of the Harney country is called to the above article, and if any one thinks he has cause to believe any of the statements therein exaggerations, or that we are in error on any point made, he will confer a favor on editor and readers by correcting. Our columns are open to all alike, rich and poor, old and young.

HARNEY VALLEY FAIR.

As no fair is held in this valley for the public exhibition of its productions, THE HERALD proposes to open a column to all producers, farmers and stockmen, in which to give a written description of all that is worthy of mention. Very fine looking colts and calves of this year's production have passed and repassed through town, but none have reported for publication. Bring in your this year's stock, give the age, weight, height and breed, to put as facts in this column. Bring in specimens of hay, clover, roots, vegetables, fruits, with names, time of planting, manner of cultivation, etc., and let us make this a lively column. Monstrosities we will give each time, and the truth alone will tell to the better class of immigrants, such as Harney wants than all the most plausibly told exaggerations afloat. We start off fairly, with the following names, in the order brought in, and all our statements can be verified by the samples filed and labeled for reference, except in perishable articles, notes of which are filed.
