HARPER'S BAZAR,

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR will continue to maintain its reputation as an unequalled family journal. Its art illustrations are of the highest order, its literature is of the choicest kind, and its Fashion and Household departments are of the most practical and economical character. Its pattern sheet supplements and fashion-plates alone will save its readers ten times the cost of subscription, and its articles on decorative art, social etiquette, house-keeping, cookery, etc., make it indispensable to every household. Its bright short stories, and timely essays are among the best published; and not a line is admitted to its columns that could offend the most fastidious taste. Among the attractions of the new volume will be serial stories by MRS. FRANCIS HODGSON BURNETT, MRS. ALEXANDER, WILLIAM BLACK, and THOMAS HARDY, and a series of papers on nursery management by MRS. CHRISTINE TERHUNE HERRICK.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WEEKLY has a well established place as the leading illustrated newspaper in America. The fairness of its editorial comments on current politics has earned for it the respect of all impartial readers, and the variety and excellence of its literary contents, which include serial and short stories by the best and most popular writers, fit it for the perusal of people of the widest range of tastes and pursuits. Supplements are frequently provided, and no expense is spared to bring the highest order of artistic ability to bear upon the illustration of the changeful phases of home and foreign history. A new work of fiction from the pen of WILLIAM DEAN HOWELLS, and one by Capt. CHARLES KING, will be among the leading features of the WEEKLY for 1889.

No weekly paper published in the United States contains so much or as great variety of good reading matter as

THE WEEKLY EXAMINER.

The coming year promises to be filled with stirring events.

In the United States the entire country will enter into the political arena having been aroused by a change of administration, but the exciting question on which the battle will be turned is still unsettled, and the country is committed to a congress almost equally divided between the two great parties.

Europe is a vast camp. Armies are massed on the frontiers, and millions of men are under arms for the most titanic war the world has ever seen.

The EXAMINER'S news gathering facilities are unequaled. Its correspondents in every part of the habitable globe. Nothing can escape their vigilance, and no expense is spared in every department of their efforts before the eyes of its readers.

The most noted writers of fiction in the world contribute to the WEEKLY EXAMINER. Jules Verne, author of "A Trip to the Center of the Earth," Robert Louis Stevenson, author of "Treasure Island," etc.; Rider Haggard, author of "She," etc.; Anna Katharine Green, author of "The Leavenworth Case," etc., have all written stories for the WEEKLY EXAMINER, and have promised to do so in the future.

The WEEKLY EXAMINER has also a department of Agriculture, in charge of a practical agriculturalist who is the best known writer in the United States on agricultural topics. This department will contain special letters for the benefit of farmers, fruit growers, orchardists and farmers generally.

The EXAMINER'S Commercial Department is supplied by experienced men who carefully watch the producer's interest in all markets.
