

THE HERALD.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1889.

D. L. GRACE, NELLIE GRACE, Editors.

Among all the religious persecutions with which almost every page of modern history is stained, no victim ever suffered but for the violation of what government denominated the law of God.—American Sentinel.

The first annual exposition of the North Pacific Industrial Association of Portland, Oregon opens Sept. 26 and closes Oct. 26, 1889. We are favored with a handsomely gotten up pamphlet descriptive of the character and object of the proposed exposition which also, gives a brief history of the growth of Portland, her superior advantages in real estate, banking, manufactures, &c., wholesale and retail trade. A full-page illustration of the Exposition Building on the back of the cover, a well-lighted, carefully ventilated, neatly designed building 200 feet deep and 400 feet long. Oregon readers of THE HERALD intending to visit this grand exhibit will please send postal cards expressing such intention to our address at as early date as possible.

WITHIN the limits of this article it is obviously impossible to do more than to glance superficially at the character and extent of that vast geographical division of the Republic known as Oregon. The word vast is used advisedly. Consider the superficial area of Oregon which embraces a surface of 94,560 square miles, 60,518,400 acres. It lacks only 680 sq. miles of being twice as large as New York State with its population of 5,000,000 souls, while Oregon has not yet reached its half million mark. The states of Maine, Vermont, Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Rhode Island with their combined area of 65,150 sq. miles could all be reconstructed, as to geographical area, within the limits of Oregon; New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware could find new local habitations in what was left, and a brand new state, with an area of more than 10,000 sq. miles could be constructed out of the still unoccupied space. These apparently staggering figures are not presented in any boastful spirit, nor with a view to exciting the envy of our fellow citizens who dwell within more circumscribed limits. These figures are given merely to prepare the mind of the reader for what is to follow. The object of this publication is to bring Oregon and the great Northwest, and, sooth to say, that Portland, the metropolis of that great region, prominently before the business men, the merchants, the miners, the agriculturists, the lumbermen, the fisherman, the fruit growers, the dairymen, the home-seekers and home-builders, and the wage-earners of the ten and hundreds of thousands whose faces are turned toward the setting sun in their search for "fresh fields and pastures new." And this publication is but the means by which it is sought and intended to invite all interested to come and see for themselves the grand epitome of what the mines, fields, orchards, forests, dairies, fisheries and manufactures of Oregon and the great Pacific Northwest can, and do produce, samples which products will be exhibited in the magnificent exposition building of the North Pacific Association, in Portland, Sept. 26 to Oct. 26, 1889.—Opening paragraph of Portland Exposition Pamphlet.

Blaine's young man with bangs, William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey, has been appointed minister to Germany. There is nothing strange about this appointment which was known and discussed in Berlin, where Phelps was with the Samoan Commission, six weeks ago, except the absurd attempt on the part of Blaine, Harrison and Phelps to make it appear to the public that the latter was very much surprised when tendered the commission as minister, when as a matter of fact the thing has been fully settled ever since shortly after the Senate rejected the nomination of Murat Halstead to the same position. By accident I discovered the cause for this little display. Phelps wants to spend the most of the summer in this country, and it was concluded that if it was given out that the position had been given him unexpectedly, he could plead "private business" as an excuse for not going to Berlin for several months. Verily the tricks of the politicians are many.

The West Shore is out with a mammoth edition copies of which we assure our Oregon readers ought to be in every home in the State.

THE REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC PARTIES.

[From Belford's Magazine for July.]

The government of the United States is not a pure democracy. Its vital, fundamental principle is equality. It lodges the sovereignty in those to whom it properly belongs, the people—not one man, or a family, or a chosen few. It is proposed in this paper to consider briefly the tendencies of the measures advocated by the Republican and Democratic parties as affecting this fundamental principle of our Constitution. It is not necessary to charge either party with a premeditated design to destroy the liberties of the people by the subversion of the government, but if the measures which the two parties advocate have such tendency, and if those measures result in its achievement, they can not free themselves from responsibility; whatever may have been their aims, they must be held to have intended that which is the necessary result of their acts. A democracy is the only government founded in natural justice and consonant with laws of nature. From man's attributes of wisdom, justice, and benevolence the social state sprang into existence as necessarily as light springs from the organ of the eye, and it was designed for order and protection of the race of men. On each individual was bestowed a share of this sovereign attribute; each is therefore entitled to his due proportion in the exercise of the sovereign power, so that true sovereignty is to be found in the aggregate wisdom, justice and benevolence of the whole people. Government, being only a form we adopt for the regulation of this natural social state, should, as the social state itself, be designed and administered equally for the good of all.

Wrong, oppression, and a multitude of evils must flow into the social condition whenever a part only or the interest of a part is permitted to assume the entire direction and control of its affairs. Man himself is the superior creation, and the social state was formed for his elevation, preservation, and protection, and not for property, or when a few wielding official authority, or when the strong by the arm of military power, or when any other one interest assumes to govern all, it is an unwarranted usurpation. It is a violation of the fundamental law of the social state. It is a destruction of the vital principle upon which is built the government of democracy. Timour, the Tartar despot, inundating fruitful provinces with the blood of slaughtered thousands and heaping his pyramids of human skulls, an aristocracy of landed gentry in nearly every land driving famishing children from their hovels to perish with cold and hunger while the dogs in their kennels are sheltered and fed upon dainties, or a monopoly of capitalists speculating upon the sweat and toil of half-famished employees, sapping the bloom from the cheek and joy from the bounding heart of childhood, are each violations of the fundamental law; they differ only in degree. In each case it is the interest or aggrandizement of the few, promoted at the expense and to the destruction of the many.

There are two things that I want to settle right here. Before we go any farther, and that is, how many sacraments are there, and what do they represent? Ans: There are two sacraments; the Lord's supper, and water baptism. The Lord's supper represents the suffering, death, burial and resurrection of Christ. Water baptism represents the baptism of the Holy Ghost, and not the death and burial of our Lord as some would have us believe. Christ never intended that it should be for that; for if Christ instituted the sacrament of what is called the Lord's supper for that purpose and who can deny it. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear, see Mark 16: also Acts 11:16. By whom is baptism to be administered. Ans: By an authorized or ordained minister of the gospel, see Matt. 28:19, also Eph. 4:8-13, also 1 Pet. 1:12 also 1 Tim 3:10, read these verses and then judge for yourself if any one but an ordained minister has a right to perform such an ordinance.

Now see Eph. 4:5-2, it says "One Lord, one faith, one baptism." Baptism here means the baptism of the Holy Ghost and not of water as some would have us believe, this text represents the God Head, thus one Lord means one God, one faith one Son, are the gospel one baptism, one holy ghost, thus there are three in the God head, father son, and holy ghost, and these three are one. Thus we can see that the baptism of water is but the shadow of spiritual baptism and shadow and the substance are but one and God intended they should go together as two parts of the same thing, see John, 3:3-5. Q. Can water baptism wash away sin? No. See Heb. 9:22. Without the shedding of blood, is no remission, see 1 John 1:7. The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin, thus you can see that Christ needs no water to help wash away our sins. If water could do one it, therefore, we are buried with him

Commissioner of Pensions, Tanner, is supposed to be rather thick-skinned, but the charges of favoritism toward a certain firm of pension agents here which were recently made against the Pension office "broke him all up", as the boys say. Before leaving for the West, where he goes to attend several soldier meetings, he called on the President to assure him that he was innocent of the charges. He also told the President that when he returned from this trip he proposed making a personal investigation in order to ascertain whether there any basis for the charges. There is to be a big discharge at the Government printing office tomorrow. I am informed that Public Printer Palmer has instructed the foremen in several departments that he wanted none but democrats selected for dismissal. The Indiana republicans that stay at home must be very different from those that come to Washington, or else Representative Owens of that State, who is just from home, must be fitting when he says, speaking of his constituents: "The people of the State feel that superior to patronage, personal ambition for place, and all that, is the sense that Indiana has a President whose administration they may be proud of." For several reasons I am constrained to believe that Mr. Owens is only giving the man in the White house "tally" with hope of "catching on" to something for some of his aforesaid constituents. First, because in the eyes of all the republicans from Indiana that I have ever seen nothing was superior to official patronage. Secondly, the administration of the Indiana man has hardly been long enough or it acts important enough to be either proud of or ashamed of. The traveler who is at present occupying the White House is working the railroads in great shape. He returned from Cape May Monday night and to-day he has gone back there. He will return here the first of the week, bringing his family Tuesday or Wednesday he is to carry the lady and the babies to Deer Park where a dead head cottage has been placed at his disposal for the summer. He is then to go to the fourth of July celebration at Woodstock. How many drummers do more traveling than this in the same time. The Civil Service Commission has returned from its investigating tour. The Commissioners are disappointed and almost discouraged. In only one place did they find the law being strictly carried out—Chicago. The visits of inspection will be kept up and unless the courage of the Commission shall all be forced, without fear of favor. This treatment, if persisted in, will make law a permanent thing or it will cause it to be repealed. Mr. Porter, Superintendent of the Census, proposes to set up a little opposition to the Civil Service Commission. He refuses to take his clerks through the Commission, and has arranged a list of questions which he says all applicants must answer satisfactorily before appointment. The only difference is, if furnished by the Civil Service Commission some of the clerks would be democrats, while Porter's plan makes sure of all being republicans. Special orders have been given collectors of Internal revenue as to watching fruit distillers, during the coming season. Mode of Water Baptism. There are two things that I want to settle right here. Before we go any farther, and that is, how many sacraments are there, and what do they represent? Ans: There are two sacraments; the Lord's supper, and water baptism. The Lord's supper represents the suffering, death, burial and resurrection of Christ. Water baptism represents the baptism of the Holy Ghost, and not the death and burial of our Lord as some would have us believe. Christ never intended that it should be for that; for if Christ instituted the sacrament of what is called the Lord's supper for that purpose and who can deny it. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear, see Mark 16: also Acts 11:16. By whom is baptism to be administered. Ans: By an authorized or ordained minister of the gospel, see Matt. 28:19, also Eph. 4:8-13, also 1 Pet. 1:12 also 1 Tim 3:10, read these verses and then judge for yourself if any one but an ordained minister has a right to perform such an ordinance.

by baptism into death—here you can see the apostle speaks of a death and a burial. What kind of a death and burial has the apostle reference to? If he means water baptism, then the person to be baptized must be drowned, so there will be a death, see Col. 2:12. If the apostle means the burial of the man's body then it is the death of the body, for the apostle says, We are buried by baptism into death. If the burial is literal, so must the death be literal, and that God will raise them from the dead again as he did Jesus Christ—who is willing to try it.

Now, see verses 6, 7, and you can see that the Apostle means that this death that takes place in sin and we become dead unto sin; our sins are dead and buried so you can see that this refers not to water for there was not one drop of water in all these verses, for Paul says, Our old man is crucified, and none can deny it. The apostles' reply is, God forbid; how shall we who are dead to sin live any longer. [To be continued] W. BARTHOLOMEW.

Ed. HERALD: According to request I have written up Burns' Celebration: The Fourth of July was celebrated by the citizens of Burns and the surrounding country with that patriotic zeal that always characterizes all their public undertakings. The program was carried out in the order published. Each and all the active participants acquitted themselves with credit to themselves and satisfaction to all.

The reading of the Declaration of Independence by Geo. W. Hayes, was done in a scholarly manner. The Oration was full of patriotic sentiment. The remarks of E. Fisher were full of cheer and were flattering, especially to the citizens of our town. A. F. Ritterbusch gave a recitation from Henry Ward Beecher, on "Our Flag" and as to delivery I doubt if Rev. Beecher quite excelled him. I may say that Mr. Ritterbusch is more than an ordinary speaker.

The Brass Band did as was expected of them—gave good music and plenty of it for the occasion. The singing by the glee club, which was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Pegtly, Mrs. Maggie Levens and Chas. Byrd, was excellent and the selections most appropriate. The Liberty Car was crowded with lovely little girls, arrayed in "white and bearing the image of heavenly beings, more than those of earthly.

Ice-cream and lemonade were abundantly served. The decoration of the town with flags, union hunting and evergreens was tastefully done. Fireworks and a ball were made the close of the day, but as I was not in attendance I can give no testimony regarding them.

The 4th at Harney. Ed. HERALD: The firing of anvils at sunrise woke the late sleepers of Harney and soon after people from the country began to arrive. The main street had been liberally decorated with evergreens, and at 10:30 in the liberty car with Miss Cora McKim as Goddess of Liberty, followed with a smaller car representing the Colonies, led the procession to the ground east of town.

On arriving at the grounds the exercises were opened with prayer by D. E. Perkins, and singing by the choir, reading the Declaration by Supt. L. B. Baker, and more singing, after which Mr. Hudson delivered the oration, the program as published in THE HERALD being substantially followed with one or two exceptions. After the customary-basket dinner had been disposed of, the following races took place: Boys under eight, winner, Johnny Marshall, $1.00; 2d. Arthur Claypool, 50c.

Boys under ten, winner, Star Buckland, $1.00; 2d. Willie McKinney, 50c; 3d. Clarence Drinkwater, 25c.

Young ladies race, winner, Edith Claypool, $3.00; Misses Lillie Crawford and Mary Logan tied and divided $2.00, 2d money, and the same amount was quickly made up to Miss Belle Clendenen, the only other in the race.

In the Ladies' egg race, Miss Josie Logan illustrated the old maxim "The more haste the less speed" by walking through with the egg "right side up with care" to the discomfiture of her more hasty opponents, $1.00; 2d. Rosa Logan, 50c; 3d. Minnie Crawford, 25c.

The ball in the evening at the new Court house was a delightful affair and well attended, and all in all, the occasion was one long to be remembered by those whose good fortune led them to Harney.

Harney, 7-8-'89 J. N.

Ed. HERALD: We had a fine time here July 4th. Capt. Ware assisted by Corporals Marsden and Read opened the celebration at sunrise with a salute of thirteen guns. At noon there were lots of good things to eat at Mrs. Tom Howard's and at Mrs. Bob Willeben's. The inner man being satisfied all went to the race-track. The first race was for a $50.00 purse for saddle-horses, quarter mile dash.

The entries were; Henry Song's gray horse, "Duke," John McFarren's roan horse "Duck"; Henry Masterson's bay horse "Bay Johnnie"; Lou J. Rosenburg's bay horse "Dandy." The horses were "tapped off" by A. P. Jones, and after an exciting race "came under the wire" in the order named above.

The riders were "Duke," D. L. Dringer; "Duck," J. N. Farrens; "Bay Johnnie," Mr. Johnson; "Dandy," Jimmy Brown. Time, 26 seconds. The second race was a dash of 600 yards, free for all, for a purse of $100.

The following entries were made: Rosenburg's bay horse "Peanut"; Henry Song's grey horse "Brigham"; Chas. Custer's bay horse "Dandy." "Peanut" won the race, with "Duke" a good second; "Brigham" bringing up the rear and "Dandy" "shut out."

"Duke" was a great favorite in the pools in both races. The first he won but the second he failed to "get there." Dave Dringer rode "Duke" in both his races, and horse and rider seemed to be great favorites with the ladies. Little Jimmie Brown rode "Peanut" down the home stretch "like a little man" and came "under the wire" with a smile on his face.

Brint Reeves rode Jones' entry in good shape, but the horse was too slow for a "winner." Poor "Dandy" ridden by Chas. Ditcher, only ran 100 yards and "quit."

Messrs. N. E. Duncan, Dell Overton and Johnny Robinson acted as judges, and A. P. Jones and J. E. McKinney as starters. They filled their positions with credit to themselves and with satisfaction to all. After the races everybody went to town and preparations were made for the ball which opened at eight o'clock, with South and Prime as musicians and Rance Drake as floor manager and caller.

All seemed to enjoy themselves, and at daylight they left for their homes well pleased with their day's entertainment. Drewsey, 7-6-'89. SPORT.

Races at Harney. Purse of $50 was won by Charley Jones' horse "Bannock," Little Joe, rider. Entries for the same were: Charley Jones "Bannock," Little Joe, rider. E. A. Stauffer's "Grain," Frank Baker, rider. I. K. Venator's sorrel horse, Gus DeLoor, rider.

Purse of $70 was won by Charley Jones' horse "Buck," Cam Kilgarr, rider, against Tex Sillman's horse "Buster," Little Joe, rider. The above is the best account we were able to obtain in time for this issue. Soothing Syrup. Mrs. Winstead's soothing syrup for children is the best ever compounded and is the best remedy for all the ailments of infants and children, and has been used for every year with never-failing success by millions of mothers on their own children. During the process of making is used a most valuable medicine, and is the only one that is pure and safe, and will cure all the ailments of children, such as cough, cold, whooping-cough, croup, and all the ailments of the chest and lungs. It is the best remedy for all the ailments of children, and is the only one that is pure and safe, and will cure all the ailments of children, such as cough, cold, whooping-cough, croup, and all the ailments of the chest and lungs.
