THE HERALD.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1889.

LATE STATE NEWS.

—October 2d Douglas county fair opened and continued three days.

—George Hughes who was so badly gored by an angry bull, near Salem, on the 17th ult., is in a fair way to recover. His father came from Canyonville to nurse him.

—An attempt was made to assassinate Thomas Winning at Gervois, Oregon, last Sunday. He was shot twice by an unknown person in ambush and his wounds were dangerous.

—Jas. Bright cook on the steamer "Argo," while the vessel was loading at Coos bay 20th ult., accidentally fell over-board, broke his hip and bruised his body up considerably. He was brought to San Francisco on 27th.

—On 21st ult., while out hunting near Brooks, Or., Thos. Winning, a young Englishman, was shot in the right arm by parties hid in the brush; a second struck him in the back, and the surgeon pronounces his case a critical one. Except above facts the whole affair is enveloped in mystery.

—Oregon Short Line on the 25th ult., issued a call for special meeting of stockholders on October 17th, as Union Pacific stockholders are demanding a modification of the lease, and if their wishes are disregarded, threaten to institute proceedings in the Oregon courts to have the lease declared invalid, etc.

—Farmer Phillips of Fern Ridge, Oregon, has been puzzled for a long time to find how his cows were robbed of their milk while at pasture. Last week he hid in a tree and watched his herd of sleek cows after they were driven to the field. In a few minutes he saw a fine razor-back pig go to one of the cows, and start his suction-pump. As soon as this cow was dry he tackled another, and would have gone the rounds, but Farmer Phillips interfered. That pig will never suck another cow.

—Tuesday, 23d ult., Gottfried Brose, while herding sheep near the residence of H. Taylor Hill on Trout creek, Crook co., shot and killed Shields Looney with his Winchester rifle, as the latter was ascending the hill to inquire whose sheep were being ranged so close to the house. Brose rode into Prineville the next day and gave himself up. Geo. W. Barnes is engaged for the defense and J. T. Moore for the prosecution. The body was found by the coroner as Brose had located it.

FROM BURNS LAST EDITION.

—J. Durkheimer & Co. has placed their business in a plain and prominent position before the people of Harney valley and its tributaries, as they said they would do when they first established their large merchandising business in Burns. Their shelves are loaded, their ware house ditto, with fresh, reasonable, reliable priced goods, the largest stock ever before in this county, and more goods on the road.

—While a man named Aldridge was freighting last week between Baker City and John Day, his horses ran away on Burnt Hill, and he falling off the wagon had a wheel run over him and breaking his leg.

—Mrs. T. B. James a victim of consumption was lying very low Saturday, nearer death than last spring. LATER: Died, Monday, and buried the following day near Harney. Our sympathies tendered the grieving family.

—Pierston took a picture of the town of Burns, Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dickinson were registered at the Burns hotel Wednesday.

—Pierston, the well-known East Oregon Photographer, is located in Burns, ready to do all kind of good work in his line. As he leaves here shortly every one should be on hand early and secure a good picture. His photos are just the thing needed to complete domestic happiness.

The $3,000 Prize Stories to Begin in Next Month's Issues.

Four Months Subscription for only 25 Cents. Send in Your Names N. V.

Always alive to the requirements and changes of the times, The Free Press was the first to note the growing desire of readers everywhere for something new and fresh in the line of high class fiction, something of a much superior grade of excellence to the mass of stale and flat "syndicate" productions found in the average weekly paper. Out of the determination to satisfy this demand grew our unparalleled offer of $3,000 in Cash Prizes for the three best stories to be written for The Free Press. With the details of this remarkable enterprise all are doubtless familiar. That it has excited widespread interest and comment will be readily understood. The competition is ended; the hundreds of manuscripts are now in the hands of the judges and are expected to announce the prize winners and begin the publication of the stories on or about September 1st. Look out for a literary sensation.

The reading public is on a quiver for the stories, hundreds having already sent in their subscription. The time is particularly auspicious for our friends and agents to make a move all along the line, as everyone will be interested in reading these masterly serials. On order that none may be deterred in account of the price we have concluded to offer The Weekly Press four months for 25 cents, thus placing the paper within reach of all. It will be seen from the Premium List that we offer a number of novelties and some articles of great intrinsic value for clubs. These Four Months subscription will be accepted until December 1st.

We make this offer thus early because it is desirable that as many names as possible be placed on our mailing list before the prize stories begin, as it involves some trouble and is sometimes difficult to supply back numbers. Canvassing for The Press is becoming easier and more lucrative every year and we believe the results this year will be a surprise to all. Enter the field without delay and you will, without question, be able to secure a very large list, receiving generous compensation for your labor. Don't wait until some one else has canvassed your territory.

Send for sample copies and blanks whenever you need them. Don't send postage stamps in payment for subscriptions, we cannot use them. The Free Press Co., 1000 3rd St.

HARPER BROS.' COLUMN.

1889.

H P R'S BAZAR.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S BAZAR will continue to maintain its position as an unequalled family journal.

Its illustrations are of the highest order, its literature is of the choicest kind, and its fashion and household departments are of the most practical and economical character. Its paper also contains the most up-to-date and valuable information on all subjects of interest to the household. Its bright, clear, and timely essays are among the best published, and not a line is admitted to its columns that could offend the most fastidious reader. Among the attractions of the new volume will be serial stories by Mrs. FRAS-

ER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, and a series of papers on household management, by Mrs. CHRISTINE TERNER HERRICK.
