HARNEY LODGE, No. 77, I. O. O. F., Burns, Oregon, May 26th, 1899. To the N. G., V. G., officers and brothers of Harney Lodge, No. 77, I. O. O. F.

We, your committee, heretofore appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the respect of this Lodge for our late brother, C. M. Caldwell, P. G. of Douglas Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., at Canyonville, Oregon, respectfully report the following:

C. M. Caldwell was born in Botetourt county, Virginia, September 29, 1824, and died, April 25, 1890, and was buried, April 26, 1890, which was the anniversary of the American I. O. O. F. Brother Caldwell during his life held many important offices of trust, in all of which he acquitted himself with the highest honors.

WHEREAS, In view of the loss, this Order has sustained in the death of our late brother and a heavier loss sustained by those nearest and dearest to him, therefore be it RESOLVED, By Harney Lodge, No. 77, of Oregon, that while we bow with humble submission to the will of the Most High, we do not the less mourn for our brother who has been taken from us.

RESOLVED, That in the death of C. M. Caldwell, of Douglas Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F. Harney Lodge laments the loss of one of its best and noblest co-workers, and a brother who was always ready to proffer the hand of aid and the voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of our order, a friend and companion who was dear to us all and a citizen whose upright and noble life was standard of emulation to his fellows.

RESOLVED, That the sympathy of this Lodge be extended to the relatives of the deceased in their sad affliction, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to each member of his family and also, to Douglas Lodge No. 14, I. O. O. F. at Canyonville, Oregon.

enemies. He was past fifty years of age, of a peaceful disposition, quietly attending to his own affairs, and the cause for the murder cannot even be conjectured. The news of the murder horrified the people of that usual quiet village, and the mysterious part of the affair, makes the murdered man's friends' blood creep when they talk of the scene, and of the assassin.

No further particulars are obtainable as we go to press, and the above was learned second hand, on the street. James Applegate came for a coffin, but we did not get to see him.—Lakeview Ex.

Further particulars of the murder of A. Broili we learn from the Bidwell stage driver. A man and boy have been arrested for the murder, did not learn their names. The driver stated after the arrest the boy made a confession the particulars of which he did not ascertain.

The last volume issued of Aiden's Manifesto Cyclopaedia is fully up to the high standard of the preceding volumes, and readers will be pleased to learn of the rapid progress the work is now making; strong financial allies have recently been secured in the publishing department, two large printing offices are now at work upon it, and the publication is to be hastened to completion with all the speed that abundant resource and energy can give it. People have wandered how a work of such superior merit and magnitude, and so handsomely and thoroughly got up—a rival of the Britannica, Johnson, Appleton and the rest—could be published at all, at prices so remarkably low, and searchers after knowledge, as well as the publishers, are to be congratulated upon the new promise of success. A 40-volume Cyclopaedia including an Unabridged Dictionary of language, large type, several thousand illustrations—all for $30.00, and even that in such easy installments as one pleases to ask, almost, is a great thing for the public! Specimen pages sent free to any applicant, by the publisher, John B. Aiden, New York, Chicago, and Atlanta.

Word reached here, April 23d, that A. Broili, the old store-keeper at Willow Ranch, had been fully murdered, Tuesday night. He left his home to go to the store, about 8 p. m. and that was the last seen of him until his body was found yesterday morning about midway between his residence and store. He was shot in the ear, the ball coming out through the top of his head and through his hat, and his head was beaten with clubs, which were found near the body. His hat, pocket book and store keys were taken to the edge of the creek and left, where they were found. No money was taken, nor were the contents of the store disturbed.

The deceased has been in the general merchandise business at Willow Ranch for several years, and was not known to have any
