COMMUNICATION.

WASHINGTON, D. C. The "boycott" idea as a redress for the ills following in the train, of the force bill, and which was suggested by Editor Howell, of the Atlanta Constitution, finds little favor with democrats in congress either from the North or South. Senator Carlisle, although new to the senate; McGowan in this county, and am is an old head in legislation and a his authorized agent to collect and man whose opinion is valued, says receipt for the same. Persons know-ing themselves indebted to him itate the radicals of the north by unpaid bills, notes and accounts of the country will make the repuball other legislations which is the basis of a rotten political speculation. The north is now too much wrapped up in the development and prosperity of the southern section to permit a few scheming politicians to waste their millions of investment First day: Six hundred yard with nothing in return but the bare prospect of a temporary political Second day: Que-half mile dash advantage. These views too, are but the echo of a general sentiment among democrats in Congress. Fourth day: Three-fourth mile And to there credit be it said, there are also a few republican senators who take this broad view of the sitdash, for three year old colts, $150. uation. Nothing would better suit the radical element than the southern communities organization to fight the prospective law, as they could use it as a whip to drive into Notice to the taxpayers of School submission those members of the party who are against force Bills and now stand ready to oppose such legislation.
