

THERE is something rotten somewhere in the connection of this government with matters relating to Chili. The public has never seen the true inwardness of this Itata business.

"Of course I am master," says Kaiser William, of Germany, to himself, "but as discretion is the better part of valor, I'll just adjourn the Reichstag until next winter, before old man Bismark gets a chance to take his seat."

If all the tin plate factories were built that the republican newspapers have told their readers would be built we could supply the entire world with that very useful material, but building factories on paper supplies nothing, but disgust.

KEEP your eye on Representative W. L. Wilson of West Virginia. He is a young man, but he is growing as rapidly as any man now in public life. His name is heard on all sides, and nothing but praise is spoken of him. He is deeply interested in the organization of democratic clubs, and he is at present making speeches out west in their interest.

MANY years practice has given C. A. Snow & Co., solicitors of patents at Washington, D. C., unsurpassed success in obtaining patents for all classes of inventions. They make a specialty of rejected cases, and have secured allowance of many patents that have been previously rejected. Their advertisement in another column will be of interest to inventors, patentees, manufacturers and all who have to do with patents.

Mr. Benjamin Harrison is a "trimmer" from "way back." The citizens of Colorado thought to know him out when they presented him with a souvenir inscribed in letters of silver "Free Coinage, Honest money," but they didn't know the gentleman. He made them a speech about "moderating our own views, just concessions" and other things that made them believe for the moment, that he was with them. The next day when they saw his remarks in cold type, they discovered that Talleyrand wasn't far out of the way when he said: "Speech was given to man to enable him to conceal his thoughts."

GREAT Scott! Is the country again to go through what so nauseated the average newspaper readers during the first half of 1888; when, one day flaming headlines would tell us that Blaine was at death's door, and the next we would be informed by the same methods that he was in good health? There are indications that Mr. Blaine's health is again to be made the football of the sensational press. Gentlemen, in the name of humanity let up. We are politically opposed to Mr. Blaine but that is no reason for torturing him slowly to death by a continuous discussion of the probability of his death from a complication of all the imaginable diseases. There is no man so strong that he cannot be killed by such methods; but the methods are worthy only of savages.

HERALD'S WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. May 18 1891.

The power of the press was never more clearly shown than recently in the news rumors published concerning the Itata and Charleston, two ships a hundred miles or more from land and absolutely without means of immediate communication with reporters. Notwithstanding this obstacle very interesting accounts of their daily proceeding are published and the people are quite fully apprised of current events. Surely the power of the press is unlimited.

It is said at the State department that there has been no suggestion of arbitration of the difficulties between Italy and the United States growing out of the New Orleans tragedy as was reported in a special dispatch from Rome. Arbitration is the last resort after diplomacy has failed, and as Secretary Blaine has promised to consider the claims for indemnity, it cannot be held that the diplomatic stage has been passed. The rather indiscreet utterances of the Italian consul at New Orleans relative to the conspiracy to kill the mayor and other prominent persons causes some amusement at the Department, but as they have not taken an official shape no notice will be taken of them by our Government.

The Secretary of the Interior has under consideration the advisability of surveying the southern and eastern boundary lines of the Yellow Stone National Park, and also the boundary lines of the timber reservation which was authorized by the act of March 3, 1891, and located by executive proclamation of March 30, 1891. While no specific appropriations for these surveys have been made by Congress, it is believed that the expense of the same may be made and charged to the appropriation made for the survey of public lands.

The Department of State has been officially informed of the acceptance by the government of China of the invitation to participate in the World's Columbian Exposition. Mr. Durby, the United States minister at Peking writes, under date of April 1, to the Secretary of State, saying that the prince and ministers have requested that the Secretary of State shall see that space is reserved at Chicago for the exhibition of the Chinese government.

The Treasury commission on the selection of a distinctive paper for Treasury notes, bonds, etc., submitted its report to secretary Foster yesterday. The report will doubtless be approved by Secretary Foster within a few days. The new two dollar notes will be printed upon this paper. The new note will be handsomer than the old one in many particulars. The work on it is not so jammed, and the vignette of Mr. Windom will show in the center of the certificate instead of being on the end. The ugly brown seal will not show on the new issue, but a bright carbine seal has been recommended to supplant it. About $40,000,000 of the old two dollar certificates are reported outstanding. As fast as these are received in the Treasury they will be marked for destruction.

That fact that Col. Cockerill has quit the World will have the effect of drawing out a perfect avalanche of "he is still on earth" observations.

Weak Women

Owe to themselves a duty to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. In view of the great relief it has given those who suffer from ailments peculiar to the sex. By purifying the blood, regulating important organs, strengthening the nerves, and toning the whole system, it restores the debilitated to health.

After 15 Years.

"For 15 years my mother has been troubled with milk leg. She went to different parts of California, as persons said the climate might help her, but it was of no avail, and I, being a druggist, thought I would get her to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before she had taken half a bottle, she said she was improving, so she continued until she took half a dozen bottles, and now she is perfectly well. For nearly fifteen years she was unable to walk around, but now she can walk as well as ever." T. F. BLAKE, San Francisco, with C. F. Richards & Co. Wholesale Druggists.

Like a New Creature.

"I have been for years trying to get help for that terrible general debility and weakness so common to women. Within a year I have taken ten or twelve bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I am now feeling like a new creature." Mrs. F. B. ROSS, Marlin, Texas.
