-The ejection process is still going on, on the Red-S. We are greatly in hopes this lesson taught the settler, by dearly bought experience, will be profitable, and they will learn to let the government shoulder its own fight and not bring them in as a go between to pay expenses and suffer loss in a litigation—if it is a fraud—caused by the negligence of the government itself.

-Mr. Turner, the old gentleman who was spoken of some time ago, in the HERALD, as coming into Harney with five grown boys and families, called to see us today. We are very much pleased with Mr. Turner from the conversation we had with him and believe he will be a good citizen, and hope he will find in our country a ranch to suit himself and we wish, the same luck, to his five boys.

Harney's Public School.

We desire to call the attention of the patrons of education to the work of the Harney City Public school. We are making an honest effort to maintain a school in every way worthy of the confidence of the public. It is our ambition to make this school so full of merit as not only to command the respect of the most exacting critic, but excite in the minds of its patrons and friends a just pride. That our school has been a success from an educational standpoint no one will question since our students have creditably filled some of the best positions in this and adjoining counties. To the Preparatory and High school department will be added a commercial department. Tuition reasonable. Board can be procured at low rates. The first term begins Sept. 14 1891. We have been fortunate in securing for our music teacher Miss Foulson a graduate of Boston Conservatory of music. Other suitable teachers have been employed.

We solicit your correspondence MOLLIE LEHMAN, Principal.
