HAY AND PASTURE—Hay for sale with pasture gratis. Marion Run yard, six miles south of Burns, of hay to sell from 150 to 300 tons of hay at three dollars a ton with good pasture thrown in. The pasture is sufficient without feeding any hay until deep snow. He also offers the privilege of feeding on the premises Water plenty.

—The father of a frail, consumptive Connecticut girl who wanted to attend a dance, sent her in a carriage with two servants, but made her put a pedometer in her pocket when she got home in the morning it indicated that she had danced enough to cover thirty-one miles in a straight line. The above is true to life. If such a girl were asked to help her poor, tired mother wash dishes she would have to tad a headache.—Oregon Scout.

—Subscribers to newspapers who are in debt for their local papers should not think hard of a dun from the editor either through the columns of the paper or written statement through post office, it is not an impeachment of their honesty or ability, it is just simply a necessity on the part of the publisher. A few dollars to a subscriber isn't much but the subscribers must remember it's a great deal to the editor when so many of those dollars are due him on back subscriptions, it makes the aggregate, to him, very large. For instance a local newspaper has 300 delinquent subscribers that is subscribers that owe for one year or two or even three at $2.50 the subscription you see for one year would be $750. The publisher is out just that amount which he needs in his business and to pay debts.

Later—Morning of the 30th, ground white with snow.

Because. Because one friend you fondly loved Has proved to you untrue, Pray don't condemn the other friends You love, and who loves you. Full well we know gold is refined, And cast aside the dross; Cling closer to the friends so true— Don't count the false ones loss.

Because to-day your way seems dark, And clouds obscure the sun, Is not an omen other days Will be with storms begun. Take courage, dear heart, and trust the Lord, And lay aside your sorrow; Bright days are coming, so rejoice; You may be glad to-morrow. M. E.
