

The Smithsonian institution recently paid $1500 dollars for a single butterfly. The species has long been believed to be extinct.

One thing has been demonstrated by the government rain makers now operating in Texas, they have succeeded in bringing down showers of criticism and storms of abuse.

There are now sixteen prisoners confined in the Union county jail, besides Mrs. Le Bord who remains at the sheriff's home, among them several parties charged with murder.

Replying to the query of a young school teacher, we answer that the amount of surplus money in the treasury of the United States at the close of Cleveland's administration was $176,607,265.11 while the available surplus now is $1,696,942.51.

A Lack of Enthusiasm.

The replies of French manufacturers to the government circulars relative to the Chicago world's fair indicate a lack of enthusiasm for the enterprise.

Murder at La Grande.

It now transpires that the man, Patrick Sheener, who fell dead in a chair at the Lodge saloon in La Grande on Tuesday morning Oct. 6, was killed by being severely beaten by the bar-tender named Abner Hall.

Hall skipped out, but was overtaken at Huntington and brought back to Union. A man by the name of Andrew Johnson was also arrested as being an accessory to the crime.

Duncan and John Morrison, colored "song and dance artists," who were holding forth in the saloon, were witnesses to the affair and took the train for the west.

Demagogical.

To Senator Faulkner, Representative Bynum and others. Gentlemen: Whenever you get everything produced in your states on the free list, come out and talk to us about putting everything produced in our states on the free list.

This is the language of a demagogue. It is the language of one who finds himself utterly unable to answer the arguments made by Faulkner and others.

The Guatemalan War.

From exchanges we get the following news of the revolution in Guatemala.

The revolutionists in Guatemala finally succeeded Wednesday in drawing Barillas' army into a fight and the government troops were badly used up, retreating to Guatemala City, forty miles from the scene of the fight.

THE doings of the farmer politically of to-day, are watched closely by both old parties. In reading the platforms of both the great parties one would imagine that the legislative bodies assembled and worked for no other purpose, except to better the condition of the poor agriculturist.
