WE HAVE in this county evidence of the careless and profligate legislation heretofore existing in our State and government. We mean the strife and intense bitter animosity between the settlers and cattlemen on account of the present condition of the land. The fact is we cannot very well dispense with either, the settler is necessary to the development of our resources, which would lie dormant and the true character of our soil never made patent to the world without his aid. On the other hand the cattlemen who have taken advantage of the opportunity afforded by acts of our legislatures, and having means at their command have gobbed up thousands of acres of the public domain, which the settlers declare is an outrage and vent their spleen directly upon the land owner, forgetting that the man of money has a right to acquire the title to the land according to the plan enacted by our law making body, instead of striking at the viper that it them they strike at the individual who took advantage of the bite notwithstanding the fact is potent at both parties commit grievous errors and mistakes and are to blame, still there is a way and a lawful one which should govern all parties concerned.

We say the settler is necessary to, we also declare the cattlemen be a necessary factor. Money is our medium of exchange and all know the need of the monied man that light.

We are satisfied of one thing and that is, the large land owners (except the Road Co.) of this county are more than willing to unload, if were possible to do so and get it whole.

Now, coming to the point, what is a part of Cleveland's last message to congress before retiring from office? A part of that message was an earnest entreaty to that body to pass an act forfeiting claims of individuals to these lands in dispute recompense the individuals for actual loss, and that said lands be again declared a part of the public domain and open for equal settlement in small tracts farms. And still we have disgruntlers in this county who make it a daily business to heap anathemas upon the head of one who, when he had the opportunity was their best friend.

These dissatisfied demagogues, broken-down politicians and sore-heads who desire to drive from our midst the monied men of our county and show them no mercy whatever would like to go a little farther and issue an edict, when these men are ready to march, that there money be left behind, and then turn right around and with one foot kick their friend, Cleveland, and with the other foot kick every other man who does not agree with them in every particular.

And these men talk consistency when their prejudices, envy and selfishness are so plainly discernable in every move they make? We are thankful that we have too many proper thinking settlers in this county to allow the class of men just described the controlling power.

THE newspapers of the third party striving to convince readers of the great similarity in the platforms of the democratic and republican parties, will signally fail in the effort. These papers must have the audacity to presume that there is but little intelligence in the democratic party or take pride in exposing their own ignorance. "Rebuke the old parties by voting the peoples ticket," is a phrase frequently used by third party advocates, to give force to the trumped up charges against the democratic party.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL PLATFORM.

THE LAND QUESTION.

The republican party, while professing a policy of reserving public land for small holdings by actual settlers, has given away the people's heritage, till now a few railroads and non-resident aliens, individual and incorporate, possess a larger area than that of all the farms between the two seas. The last democratic administration reversed the improvident and unwise policy of the republican party touching the public domain, and reclaimed it from corporations and syndicates, alien and domestic, and restored to the people nearly 100,000,000 acres of valuable land, to be sacredly held as homesteads for our citizens and we pledge ourselves to continue this policy until every acre of land so unlawfully held shall be reclaimed and restored to the people.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

We denounce the republican legislation known as the Sherman act of 1890 as a cowardly makeshift fraught with the possibilities of danger in the future, which should make all its supporters, as well as author, anxious for a speedy repeal. We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discrimination against either metal or charge for mintage, but the dollar unit on the coinage of both metals must be of equal intrinsic and exchangeable value, or adjusted through international agreement, or by such safe guards if legislation as shall insure the maintenance of the parity of the two metals, and the equal power of every dollar at all times in the mints and in payment of debts, and we demand that paper currency be kept at par with and redeemable in such coin. We insist upon this policy as especially necessary for the protection of farmers and the laboring classes, the first and most defenseless victims of unstable money and fluctuating currency.
