No. 2 The Mission Of Infidels.

In our previous article under the above caption, we confined our observation mainly to the deteriorating tendencies of infidelity, without attempting any description of its various methods of accomplishing its work. In this article, we propose to enter upon its methods of operation. It is not confined to any one method or firm of operation. It proposes no system or plan of action. It is confined to no rules of warfare, has no laws of argumentation, no definite mode of attack and will adopt any stratagem that can be invented to oppose and defeat the truth.

The mode of warfare adopted by Paine, Hume, Balney, Bolingbroke, Boltan and their contemporaries was manly, noble and honorable compared with many of the methods employed in these times in opposing Divine revelation. They made a direct fair and palpable issue with believers in the Bible. They openly denied the divinity of the Bible and the Lord Jesus Christ. Even Robert Owen in his discussion with Mr. Campbell openly and boldly affirmed that all religion is founded in ignorance. But it has been discovered in this inventure and progressive age that this bold manly and candid issue with Christianity did not succeed well. It has been found too direct, plain and palpable for success, and that something more circuitous, indirect and stealthy would succeed better. Hence, the citadel of truth is now approached almost invariably by a circumlocution, under some kind of a garb, cloak or pretense of faith. The worst attacks upon the Bible religion, or morality now made, are under some pretense form and name of religion. Let us, then, look at some of these wily and insidious methods of attacks.

Let the first one of these sid-issue schemes that we shall mention goes under the name of Universalism. It is frequently called a system of faith, but we hold it to be a deadly enemy of all faith, inimical to the Bible to piety, and even morality. But it makes its attacks by circumlocution, indirectly all the time professing to believe. It infuses its neutralizing influences so stealthily and insidiously, that many of the unwary mistake it for a system of faith.

But we invite men of reason, candor and cool reflection to stop and take one deliberate look at it. When the faith of Christ was preached by the Apostles it led men to repent of their sins, turn to God, confess Christ, be baptized, unite as disciples in the church organizations, meet for prayer, exhortation, and celebrating the Lord's death and sufferings, continuing steadfastly in the Apostles doctrine. In our own time when religious men preach the faith of Christ those who receive it are led to most solemn repentance, abandonment of their sins, union with the church, regular attendance upon divine ordinances, prayers, exhortations and unremitting attendance upon the worship of God. The preaching of the gospel led men to inquire, "What must I do to be saved?" But who is there that does not know that preaching universalism leads no man to inquire, "What shall I do to be saved?"

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Every family should keep this remedy in their home at all times. No one can tell how soon it may be needed. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering and perhaps the life of some member of the family. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. M. Horton.
