

HAS THE LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY NEWSPAPER IN THIS COUNTY.

Local News.

—Photographer Boyle is taking first class pictures. Do not forget when betting on horse races that you want a good photograph of yourself and family or for your sweetheart.

—Congress has adjourned, and it is generally conceded by advocates of reform that the Wilson tariff bill is, at least, a move in the right direction and quite an improvement on the McKinley tariff law.

—Abraham Lincoln was the tallest president, measuring 6 feet 4 in in length. Benjamin Harrison was the shortest. The oldest at the time of inauguration, William Henry Harrison, and the youngest President Grant, he was not quite 47 years old.

—Chas. Newell editor of the Items and county school superintendent, has moved to Harney, where he will take charge of that school and continue the publication of his paper. We hope this change will prove remunerative to the Prof. and pleasant to his family.

—Rev. Winans while here succeeded in getting subscribed and promised by responsible parties, sufficient money to pay off the debt now resting on the church. We are authorized by the trustees to notify the parties who so kindly subscribed towards the payment of this debt, that they can, now at any time, pay the money subscribed by them to any of the following named persons, who have been empowered by the board of trustees to receive and receipt for the same, Mrs. Harkey, Mrs. Byrd, H. E. Thompson, W. C. Byrd and the preacher in charge. The amount coming to Rev. Wakefield, which in the first place was $100, and has been reduced to 75 or 76 dollars with interest, the trustees would like to collect this immediately, for the reason Mr. Wakefield has written them if they will send him as soon as possible $60, he will donate the remainder, which is 15 or 16 dollars to the church. This is very kind of him, and the trustees feel that they should take advantage of his offer and send him the money immediately.

—A. C. Worthington received a supply of candies, notions, etc., a day or two since. He has the best selection of novels ever brought to this town, from the very best authors, nothing of the cheap "John" style, and trashy, still the books are very cheap, considering the standard.

—Chairman Wilson has expressed himself as follows, regarding tariff reform: "The outlook for genuine tariff reform is very bright. We have taken the first step and that is always the hardest, and, having done that much and done it perfectly, it will be easy to proceed to the full realization of tariff reform."

Gov. Waite of Colorado is under arrest, charged with opening a letter, addressed to another. The complaint was made by Mrs. Likens, formerly matron at police headquarters. Mr. Waite when informed he would have to give bail, became very indignant, and he declared he would go to jail rather than do so. It was finally decided by the commissioner to accept the Governor's personal recognizance to appear for trial. He pleads not guilty.

LOTS OF HOPPERS—Tom Gilmore tells us the grasshoppers have taken the country across the Columbia. That in the foothills the leaves have all been eaten off the oak trees and that the corn has been stripped until nothing but the bare stalks remain. The hazel bushes have been robbed of their foliage the only thing not eaten being the bushes and the nuts, the latter of which have had their husks eaten and only the hardness of the shell saved them. It is fortunate that they came too late to tackle the grain fields.—The Dalles Chronicle

LOST—Between H. C. Levensgate going into the pasture south of the race track, and the gate going into section 31 on the west side, a breast pin containing the picture of Mr. Caldwell father of Mrs. Stenger. Christians should all believe in close communion that is with God and Christ. Yes, and Christians should have close communion with each other. Not that they should examine one another's fitness for the Lord's table as some of the denominations do, but they should so live as to be in close fellowship with each other. This is the secret of success in the divine life. Paul desired that the hearts of the Christians at Colosse should be knit together in love.

"Blessed be the tie that binds, Our hearts in Christian love, The fellowship of kindred minds, 'Is like to that above."

Father Taylor on Poison Creek informs us that the crickets are not so destructive as in other years.

Clayton Harris passed through our neighborhood this week with a load of freight for Mr. Worthington.

A sojourner informs us that the times in California are extremely dull, and that some parts of that country is almost completely drouthted out. Hay 35 and 40 dollars per ton. And in many instances, says he, men sold their entire herds of cattle for the low sum of 75 cts. per head to give starvation to their hands.

It would look better to the moral and religious side of every community to see their neighbor or neighbors drawing the ox from the pit than to reap and thresh their grain on the Holy Sabbath day.

He that labors faithfully six days and rests the seventh, will, in a given time, accomplish more than if he were to labor without intermission during the whole period.

The institution of the Christian Sabbath is exactly adapted to the organism of human nature. Like the recurrence of balmy night, it frees the mind from enervating cares, disenthalls the body from servile labor and prepares it for returning efforts.

The Sabbath meets toiling man and exacts rest. The plow must stand still in the field, the hammer must lie silent on the anvil, the hum and din of machinery must cease, the roar of the locomotive must be silenced, the merchant lock up his store, the judge descend from the bench, the politician leave the arena of fierce discussion, grateful stillness prevails in the hamlet, the village and the city.

Whenever the Sabbath bell is heard it checks the rush of earth's millions, in their pursuit of the world, and cites them to the sanctuary and to bow in the presence of the Lord their maker. The eager mind is forced to pause amid its selfish plans of pleasure and frantic schemes of wealth and aggrandizement and is made to think of death and judgement, of God and his commandments. C. H.
