

W. C. BYRD Editor.

The Brooklyn strike is another evidence of the accumulation of evidences that there is something radically wrong in our government in the matter of proper protection of employer and employe.

The owners of the property can of course, bear the loss which a strike occasions to them, but the poor suffering family of the laborer himself is the awful and wholly unjustifiable curse following in the wake of a strike.

We have too many laborers for the amount of our circulating medium and as long as we have more labor than money to pay for it, just so long the war will continue between capital and labor.

With plenty of money in circulation a laborer need never go begging for work, if one craft does not hire him another will, and in that condition of trade and enterprise, when men feel they are not getting enough for their work, they will just simply drop their job and go at something else, because labor will be in demand, and there will be no obstacle placed in the way of parties taking the vacant place.

Every reasonable man will have to acknowledge that as long as money is so scarce this war between capital and labor will be waged, and probably terminate in a bloody revolution, which the monopoly alone, with their tools, will be responsible for.

An ox can only be goaded to a certain extent, and the people of any government through repeated refusals of its law making power to remedy the cry of distress, consider forbearance no longer to be a virtue and the result, especially in this government, is horrible to contemplate.

During a little controversy between Senator Allen, of Nebraska, and Senator George, of Mississippi the latter said he had long believed in one plank of the populist platform, that for the election of senators by a direct vote of the people; whereupon Mr. Allen shouted triumphantly; "There is another accession to the populist party;" "No," retorted Mr. George amidst the laughter of the senate and the people in the galleries, "it is an accession of the populist party to me."

While there is life in the Fifty-third congress, the democrats, who are true friends to the principles of democracy and the people, will not cease to hope and work for legislation in the line of currency reform. Still there is really no tangible reason for thinking so for there is nothing in sight upon which to build a hope. We take the matter and look at it in the same light of a physician when he has a serious case, "while there is life there is hope."

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Dunagan, Bonaqua, Hickman Co., Tenn. For sale by H. M. Horton.

While in Topeka last March, E. T. Barber, a prominent newspaper man of La Cygne, Kan., was taken with cholera morbus very severely. The night clerk at the hotel where he was stopping happened to have a bottle Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him three doses which relieved him and he thinks saved his life. Every family should keep this remedy in their home at all times. No one can tell how soon it may be needed. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering and perhaps the life of some member of the family. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. M. Horton.
