LA PORT, Ind., Jan. 27.—Jasper Swain, of Jasper county, together with three sisters, were believed the sole survivors of the family of John H. Swain. The latter left his home in Salem, N. C., in 1840, leaving a wife and nine children. All trace of him was lost, and he was mourned as dead. The devoted wife died of a broken heart, and five of the nine children soon followed her to the grave. The family, as the years passed, became scattered, and the old homestead crumbled to ruins. Swain, soon after disappearing, located at Columbus, O., where, fortunate in business speculation brought him a fortune. Fifty-four years elapsed before tidings came that led Jasper Swain to believe that John Swain was alive. A years search followed, during which the identity of John Swain was established. Steps were taken at once to bring about a family reunion of the family. He is now 90 years of age, patriarchal in appearance, but in full possession of his faculties. Swain's estate is now under the management of a guardian, and the complications which have arisen will result in a contest in the courts.—Sun.

SOLOMONVILLE, Ariz., Jan. 29.—P. Sullivan owns land over which the Gila Valley, Globe & Northern built its railroad track last summer, according to Sullivan, in his absence and without his permission. On Sunday he erected a frame building on the track, surrounded by a wire fence. He moved his family into the structure and the next train was obliged to halt. When William Garland, president of the railroad company, who was on the train, attempted to remove the wire fence, Sullivan leveled a shotgun at the president, warning him to keep hands off

The train was obliged to return here and a warrant was issued for Sullivan's arrest. He still effectually blocks the track, although District Attorney Jones says he will remove the obstruction and arrest all parties offering resistance.—Statesman.

Eighty million dollars in bills were shipped to Atlanta yesterday, the mammoth packages of money filling five large dry goods boxes and making more than a dray load. None of the bills are current however, as they represent "nothing in God's earth now and naught in the waters below it." They were Confederate bills of the rarest type. The huge pile of Genuine Confederate money was shipped here from Richmond, Va., the former capital of the confederacy and is now the property of Mr. Chas. D. Baker, No. 90 S Forsyth Street, this city. The money is of every denomination issued by the departed nation, and in the big collection are bills of the rarest type. There are bills issued during every year of the war. Thousands of them are very valuable as relics, but the great number of the Mr. Baker has on hand will make them so common as to bring but little on the market.

This eighty million dollars of Confederate money has been all along supposed to have been destroyed. This is undoubtedly the largest lot of Confederate money in the world.—Atlanta, Ga., Constitution, June 4th.

A woman in Georgia was so convinced that she had lizards in her stomach that she died, some time since, from pure fright, the victim of imagination. A simple trick would have cured her. A family doctor, once failing to convince a woman that she had not swallowed a frog, gave her a strong emetic, and while she was writhing in the agony of nausea, slipped a little frog in the basin. The trick succeeded, and from that moment she believed she had disposed of her tormentor.—Exchange.
