Oregonian Scott appears to have gone completely daft about the idea "standard" of money. The framers of the constitution of the United States used the word "standard" in regard to weights and measures. If they had been as crazy as Scott they would have used the word in regard to money and advertised themselves to all clear-headed men, forever, as representatives of stupidity.—Journal.

A cedar tree 407 feet in height and 70 feet in circumference at the base was felled last week near Ocosta, Wash., says an exchange. It was 60 feet to the first limb on the tree, and the limb itself was 7 feet in diameter. It is estimated that the tree will furnish 100,000 feet of boards, enough to make 100 carloads of shingles.

—The Silverton Appeal of Jan. 19th, devotes considerable space to a biographical sketch of the pioneer life of R. C. Geer, father of our fellow townsman Cal Geer. The writer of this tribute of respect to the memory of a brother pioneer, says Mr. Geer came here in 1847, and up to his demise occupied a conspicuous place in society and public affairs of his county. He was always delighted to be foremost in every good thing and during his life filled many important positions of public trust. When the territorial legislature of Oregon was organized he was a member of the state house board and was elected to the legislature in 1854. In 1890 he was elected to the office of county clerk, and continued until his death an influential and public spirited citizen.

Portland Sun—"I deplore the spectacle of men on the payrolls of this state as clerks, and experts, whose chief business is lobbying for Dolph."—Clarence Cole. Mr. Gowan spoke 20 minutes trying to excuse his action in supporting Dolph, knowing his district bitterly opposed such action, during which time many of the spectators became discourteous visibly inclined to drowsiness. Mr. Gowan had a petition from Morrow imploring him not to vote for Dolph. He said "Dolph was called an iceberg, but still he intended to support him." The Sun further states, that Gowan is a supporter of Dolph because he affiliates with the Portland machine and is governed by its counsels in all his political actions. That he does belong to the ring he himself admitted.

—J. F. Boyle, photographer, is still here. A rare opportunity is presented to all who have not already supplied themselves with samples of his excellent work. Remember his prices, $3.00 per doz. for cabinets. He guarantees to please even the most fastidious.

Basket Supper.

The Ladies of Burns will give a basket supper at the church next Friday evening. While this will be a considerable of a social affair, it is also designed so as to have a substantial business result, the proceeds going towards incidental expenses of the church, such as wood, oil, etc. And it is presumed that there will be a festive feature along with the supper. Better all go and take a part music and recitations appropriate to the occasion. prices more than reasonable.

ISLAND, Feb. 4th., 1895.

ED. HERALD:—The Island school closed on Feb. 1st. with an exhibition and dance. The only feature of the occasion detrimental to society as well as offensive to good moral citizens and the pupils of the school, was the whiskey that was consumed. County officials and other big guns from the county seat loaded down with whiskey both carcasses and pockets full, with one or two bottles, the necks protruding from their pockets. A continual stream, of men, and what was worse, taking boys with them, going out for drinks. What can we expect of our school children when such examples are set by those whom one would naturally think should conduct themselves upon such occasions as to be a criterion of morality, deserving the respect of old age and school children. The county licensed whiskey and gambling saloon are the places where men should put themselves on exhibition, not at a country school house where the influence is felt by our children.

B. R. PORTER.

A settler who has established his residence in good faith does not forfeit his rights thereunder by a temporary absence in the discharge of official duties, nor is the right of transmutation during such absence affected thereby.

The rule that recognizes official duty is imposed by the appointing power or by election.

MINERAL

The presumption as to the mineral or agricultural character of a tract, created by the return of the surveyor-general, does not preclude the assertion of any right, or the proof of the facts as they really exist.

A Legislative Session

provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next general assembly will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $3.00, four months for $1.00 per year. Like the Daily it is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no-pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
