A Legislative Session

provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next general as sembly will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and, is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $3.00, four months for $1.00 per year. Like the Daily it is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no-pay nopaper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of In a letter received from Jack the people editorially as well as in
