

SILVER.

It is a well established fact that there is not enough gold in the U. S. in circulation, to do the business. That being the case we must have something to answer the purpose.

Before 1873 we had both gold and silver in circulation one worth as much as the other, then silver was demonetized through the influence of goldites and money lenders, and we know and feel the result.

Immediately after the demonetization of silver, the price of silver began to fall and gold to rise in value.

Who was benefited by this? Was it our government and the people of the government? Or rather was it not the money-sharpers, the goldites and monopoly?

Have we not been going from bad to worse ever since that bold stroke, on the part of the monopoly, at the rights and liberties of the people? The enemies of the liberties and rights of the people, succeeded at that time in driving home the biggest wedge that ever had been driven to sunder the independence guaranteed, to the people, by our constitution.

The people reduced to serfdom and only in name a free people. What does this monopoly, headed by an English, and Cleveland included, care for our freedom or liberty?

The whole of the single standard following to day are at heart opposed to our present form of government.

The East the "hot bed" and incubator of the millionaire and goldite, the wor-hipper of the negro, when the south was making money off his labor, and longed, to hear its people talk, to take the poor negro to their bosom warm, nourish, feed and clothe him, and succeeded at that time in getting the west to sympathize with them, those people are now the head and center of a combination whose aim is, to reduce the friends of liberty to a serfdom more appalling, more binding and more degrading, than the condition of the negro in slavery days.

Silver has been money as long as we have had any records of history, and there was no lessening in its value until the monopoly had it demonetized, and as its value decreased that of gold increased, and made the possessor of it just that much richer. It is stated that England kept her gold standard for 13 years, while the rest of Europe had silver as theirs. Her colonies being large producers at that time, the government protected its own produce.

How is it to day with the U. S.? We are large producers of silver; What is our government doing to protect its produce?

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles.

I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Dunagan, Bon-aqua, Hickman Co., Tenn. For sale by H. M. Horton.

While in Topeka last March, E. T. Barber, a prominent newspaper man of La Cygne, Kan., was taken with cholera morbus very severely. The night clerk at the hotel where he was stopping happened to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him three doses which relieved him and he thinks saved his life. Every family should keep this remedy in their home at all times. No one can tell how soon it may be needed.
