

The Pendleton Tribune, which is one of the few papers in the Northwest that is merely an organ, serving some party or special interest rather than the people publishes a long editorial, headed: "Debs, the Strike Boodler." This is a strange appellation to apply to a man whose only crime is an effort to benefit laboring men. The Sun has no heroes; if it had, Mr. Debs might not be one of them; but there is no excuse for applying such a term to Debs. It could only be found in the columns of a paper that insisted, during forty days last winter, that Mr. Dolph was a proper representative of Oregon in the senate, and that he would be elected. An editor so besotted in partisanship as that is not worth arguing with. But to illustrate how far corporate malice and goldite greed can go, we allude to this article, and quote a few sample sentences from it:

Mr. Debs more than any one else is responsible for the doubt that was aroused in the minds of many as to the stability of the foundation upon which this government rests. Surely it could not be depended upon if not able to fairly face and instantly put down such agitators as Mr. Debs, aided and abetted by relentless foes of law and order.

Now, everybody of intelligence knows that Mr. Debs had not the remotest connection with the origin of that strike. It was made by men who were suffering, and seeing their wives and children starving against a corporation that had made millions out of their toil.

A "conspiracy" was finally formed. Debs did not do it. He was not responsible for it. The railway men, aided by the omnipotent arm of the United States, under the direction of certain persons in authority, to wit: George Cleveland, Richard Ghee, Daniel Lamoy, Gen. J. M. Schofield, John M. Egan, and certain corporation attorneys, were the "conspirators." They today are the parties who are responsible for any "doubt" that may exist in the minds of the people of this country as to whether or not this government will endure.

It will not endure if such men as Pullman are allowed to make slaves of, and starve into imbecility, 10,000 human beings and countrymen without their right to resist or protest.

It is in evidence and clearly proven that Debs, nor any one under his advice or authority, did no mischief or damage whatever in Chicago. It is also known that the corporations that came to Pullman's rescue are responsible for that mischief.

Let the truth be told. The Sun is not an organ of any labor union, but it resents a lie like this, and is not afraid or ashamed to fling it back in the face of the man who sent it.

Think of it! We have papers yet in Oregon that call Debs a "boodler," because he tries to aid humanity and labor, and that would kiss the toes of such an exploiter and oppressor of labor as Pullman.—Portland Sun.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within twenty-four hours I was out of bed and doing my house work. Mrs. W. L. Dunagan, Bonanza, Hickman Co., Tenn. For sale by H. M. Horton.

While in Topeka last March, E. T. Barber, a prominent newspaper man of La Cygne, Kan., was taken with cholera morbus very severely. The night clerk at the hotel where he was stopping happened to have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and gave him three doses which relieved him and he thinks saved his life. Every family should keep this remedy in their home at all times. No one can tell how soon it may be needed. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering and perhaps the life of some member of the family. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by H. M. Horton.
