The Sun figures that Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Rhode Island, with their large manufacturing interests, will realize before the national election that they are more interested in procuring good prices for their products, and a stable basis for their purchases of raw material, notably, cotton and wool, than to be satisfied with the steady appreciation of their money invested in gold bonds. It further believes that Senators Lodge and Chandler will ere then espouse the cause of independent bimetalism, in which even Massachusetts and New Hampshire will doubtless come into the free coinage classification, and the balance of the New England states be influenced in the same direction. It must also be borne in mind that ex Speaker Reed, in the June Fortnightly Review of last year, showed a strong leaning toward the doctrines of bimetalism. Should he join the ranks of the independent bimetalists, unquestionably the whole of New England would follow his leadership.

In the Sun's list of the doubtful states it concedes that there is less probability of Ohio joining the ranks of the independent bimetalists than any of the other states under that classification, on account of John Sherman's well known gold monometallic views and the claim which, from the gentleman's action, seems to be well founded, that McKinley has been captured by the promises of the "goldites" to support him for the presidential nominee. New York, with the control wielded by New York city and the large number of delegates that city will send, may unquestionably, be classed as an anti free silver state, as the city is controlled by the banking and brokerage elements, which in turn are controlled by the English money changers.

Should all the present established parties declare for independent bimetalism, as The Sun believes they will be forced to, so great will be the growth of the sentiment due to the education of the people on the question prior to the national conventions, then New York will have to form a gold standard of her own, or else join the procession of the other states.

Persons who sympathize with the afflicted will rejoice with D. E. Carr of 1235 Harrison street, Kansas City. He is an old sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism, but has not heretofore been troubled in this climate. Last winter he went up into Wisconsin, and in consequence has had another attack. "It came upon me again very acute and severe," he said. "My joints swelled and became inflamed; sore to touch or almost to look at. Upon the urgent request of my mother-in-law I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm to reduce the swelling and ease the pain, and to my agreeable surprise, it did both. I have used three fifty cent bottles and believe it to be the finest thing for rheumatism, pains and swellings extant. For sale by druggists.

If King Solomon was alive he would now say: "Go to the traveling man, learn his ways, and be wise." Mr. C. W. Battell, a Cincinnati traveling man representing the Queen City Printing Ink Co., after suffering intensely for two or three days with lameness of the shoulder, resulting from rheumatism, completely cured it with two applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. This remedy is gaining a wide reputation for its prompt cures of rheumatism, lame back, sprains, swellings, and lameness. 50 cent bottles are for sale by druggists.

A lady at Tooleys La., was very sick with bilious colic when M. C. Fidler, a prominent merchant of the town gave her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says she was well in forty minutes after taking the first dose. For sale by druggists.

For whooping cough Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is excellent. By using it freely the disease is deprived of all dangerous consequences. There is no danger in giving the remedy to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.
