HE HAD COURAGE.

There are many times, albeit not characterized by startling frequency when the nerve—the emotional nerve—of Macallister McIlhenny reasserts itself, and for the moment gives hopes to his friends that he will yet storm the citadel of some fair maiden's heart and claim it as his own. The latest recrudescence, so to speak, manifested itself only last week.

The buoyant and hopeful Mac had found another sweet creature who had permitted him to visit her after the first call. In that alone was a certain triumph to which McIlhenny was not slow to respond.

On the occasion of which this chronicle treats, he had tarried until he was in sight of the wee small hours, and in a wild burst of enthusiasm he had proposed to her, as he had so many, many times proposed to so many, many other maidens.

But the girl resented it as if men were plenty.

"Go!" she answered him, haughtily, "go, sir!"

She was so radiantly beautiful and Macallister McIlhenny was so dead in earnest, that before she knew what had happened he had bent forward and kissed her with a loud report.

"Sir!" she exclaimed, with great indignation, "you have gone too far."

"I beg your pardon," he replied, non-chalantly, "you told me to go, but you didn't say how far, and I went."

But it availed him not. He had the courage, but he lacked the strategic quality, and once more he found himself an emotional wanderer upon the face of the cold repellent earth—Detroit Free Press.

Durrant's Trial.

San Francisco, May 28—The case of Theodore Durrant, charged with the murder of Blanche Lamont and Minnie Williams in Emanuel church, has been assigned to Superior Judge Murphv, before whom Durrant will be arraigned next Wednesday. The work of the detective department is completed and the case is practically ready to proceed without delay. Durrant's attorneys say they will not only prove their client's innocence of the murders, but will show who the real murderer is.—Capital Journal.

Debs Will Be Tried.

Washington, May 27—The United States supreme court today denied the application of Eugene V. Debs, the strike leader, for a writ of habeas corpus. This is a victory for the government.
