Mrs. Rhodie Noah, of this place, was taken in the night with cramping pains and the next day diarrhoea set in. She took half a bottle of blackberry cordial but got no relief. She then sent to me to see if I had anything to help her. I sent her a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and the first dose relieved her. Another of our neighbors had been sick for about a week and had tried different remedies for diarrhoea but kept getting worse. I sent him this same remedy. Only four doses of it were required to cure him. He says he owes his recovery to this wonderful remedy.—Mrs. Mary Sibley, Sidney, Mich. For sale by all druggists.

Last summer one of our grand children was sick with a severe bowel trouble. Our doctor's remedies had failed, then we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave very speedy relief. We regard it as the best medicine ever put on the market for bowel complaints.—Mrs. E. G. Gregory, Fredericktown, Mo. This certainly is the best medicine ever put on the market for dysentery, summer complaint, colic and cholera infantum in children. It never fails to give prompt relief when used in reasonable time and the plain printed directions are followed. Many mothers have expressed their sincere gratitude for the cure it has effected. For sale by all druggists.

A BRILLIANT ORATION.

knock off the rank heads off the weeds to make them grow the faster. Other men will take their places. Not one of us but what would take their places if we could, and men are not, the rich are not to blame at all. It is the principal whose head we ought to cut off; it is the principal that is to blame. The many are to blame for allowing the rich man to run things, but the remedy must be sought through laws peacefully and orderly. Let us destroy nothing, kill no one, but on the contrary, stand by our proud flag that has already so gloriously met so many foes, and see to it that no such stain as that of anarchism shall ever rest upon its yet unsullied honor.

Countrymen, there are evils in society, but our own native or adopted land of America will ever be dear to us. Let me, in closing, paraphrase O'Reilly's Bohemian as the best expression I know for our sentiments at the present moment; sentiments I am sure that will well up in every heart as I pronounce them:

"I'd rather fail in America than win in another land;
There are no titles inherited there,
No horde or hope for the brainless heir,

No gilded dullard, native born,
To stare at his fellows in leaden scorn.
America has native and adopted sons,
Its limits where fancy's bright stream runs,
Its honors not garnered for thrift or trade,
But for beauty and truth men's souls have made;
To the empty heart in the jeweled breast,
There is value, may be, in a purchased crest;
But the thirsty soul soon learned to know
The moistureless froth of a social show,
The hollow pomp of the vulgar feast,
Where the heaviest curse is the highest priest;
The organized charity, scrimped and iced
In the name of a cautious, statistical Christ;
The smile restrained, the respectable cant,
When a friend in need is a friend in want;
Where the only aim is to keep afloat,
And a brother may die with a cry in his throat;
Oh, I long for the sight of a friendly face, the clasp of friendly hand,
And I'd rather live in America than in any other land."

To make this boast a true one, friends, society in America will be reformed some day—gently, wisely, and by its truest sons and daughters.
