-We are informed by W. D Huffman, that a mare mule on the Stein mountain range, is the dam of a colt. The colt was folded about the first of May last, and is doing well, a good average mule colt. This is no josh but facts, the mule has been corraled several times, to the knowledge of Mr. Huffman, ing it rained, the usual percentage and the colt seen getting its rations of milk in the usual manner of the horse kind. This is a freak of nature which is hard to credit but Mr. Huffman's reputation as a gentleman cannot be questioned, therefore
