HURRY UP!

Everywhere one hears that expression "hurry up!" It is a genuine Americanism expressive of the "rush" in which we live. Nothing is swift enough for us. We race against steam and lightning and find them slow. We grudge the time given to eating, and rush through meals as though life depended upon our haste.

Life does depend on our haste, but not in that sense. Look at the obituary columns of the papers and see how many prominent men are carried away by "stomach trouble," "acute indigestion" and other related diseases. Their lives have in general been sacrificed to the haste and rush of business which overlooked the fact that food can only nourish the body when digested and assimilated and that the digestive and assimilative processes can't be hurried.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, cures diseases of the stomach and the associated organs of digestion and nutrition. The source of all physical strength is food, properly digested and perfectly assimilated. By enabling the perfect digestion and assimilation of food "Golden Medical Discovery" increases and enriches the blood supply and sends new strength to every organ of the body.

"I was at one time as I thought almost at death's door," writes Mr. J. S. Bell, of Leando, Van Buren Co., Iowa. "I was confined to my house and part of the time to my bed. I had taken quantities of medicines but they only seemed to feed the disease; but I must say that 'Golden Medical Discovery' has cured me, and to-day I am stouter than I have been for twenty years. I am now forty-three years old."

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser sent free, to you on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send thirty-one one-cent stamps for cloth bound book or twenty-one stamps for paper covers to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE REFERENDUM.

on free passes are abundantly able to pay their fare, while many who pay are among the poorer classes, who have to pay their own fare and also the fare of those who have free passes. It will not take the people long to cure this evil when we get the referendum. All measures will be considered upon their merits. The question will not be asked whether your party or my party favors the measure, but will it be a good law for the people? If so we will vote for it. One of the beauties of this system of government is that party feeling will die out. Greater friendship will exist between neighbors. People will become more intelligent and they will take greater interest in public affairs because they will realize that they are the government. They will be more patriotic because they will feel that this is indeed "a government of the people, for the people, and by the people." We will then look upon lawmaking as a business proposition, and we will not consider our government to be a political institution to advance the ambitions of officeseekers. Party platforms, like those of passenger cars, are made to get in on, not to stand on. The American people have been too long controlled by political parties and have worked against their own interest because of fealty to party. The referendum will to a great extent wipe out party lines, and all legislation will stand upon its merits. It has been said by some that we will not use the referendum much when we get it. The Legislature will do much better work when the veto power rests with the people, because the people can undo their bad work and initiate any legislation desired. Many desirable measures will originate with the people that will give us a purer and better government. The people will demand that more of our officials be elected and fewer appointed, thus relieving our executive officers of a great burden and responsibility, and at the same time making our government more democratic.

Candidates pledge themselve to certain reform measures, which they find they are unable to carry out because of the many influences that are brought to bear against them. Reform parties are organized to carry out certain measures for the people, but they never get into power, and if they did politicians would soon control them and we would get but little relief. Direct legislation would soon overcome all of these difficulties and give us such legislation as we desire regardless of what political party is in power. As politics becomes purer dishonest men will leave the field of politics and better men will take their places. The people of Switzerland are well pleased with the referendum. It has been in use there for a number of years, and you cannot find a Swiss anywhere who is not an enthusiastic referendum man. Switzerland was groaning under the oppressive power of rich corporations before they got the referendum. Corrupt politicians were in control of the government. Karl Burkly, who is called the father of the referendum, said that social reform is condemned to remain in a state of theory until the right means are found to put it into practice, and these means can be above all no other than that the laws shall be made by the voice of the people, and not according to the wishes of the privileged few. The political fulcrum is wanted to the social lever wherewith society may lift from its hinges the old form of society with its poverty of the masses and its individual wealth. They found the political fulcrum and placed the lever of direct legislation upon it and lifted the people from beneath the burder of oppression and placed them upon the solid rock of prosperity. Their officials get small salaries, not larger than they would get in any private vocation. They do not believe in taxing themselver to support a set of officials in luxury while they toil hard for a livelihood. They look upon lawmaking as a sacred duty which they attend to with the greatest of care. If the Swiss people can succeed so well with direct legislation why can't we? I think we are as intelligent and progressive as any people on earth. Some people say our country is too large. It might do in Switzerland but not in this great country of ours. They had as well say we are too large to enjoy liberty. * *

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkeness is a disease and not weakness. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50.
