Charles to the altar led the lovely Jane, and to her father's house returned again, where, to convey them on their wedding tour, all ready stood a brilliant coach and four; when lo! the gathering showers at once descend, clouds and warring winds contend; this moves him not, but in he hands his bride, and seats himself enraptured by her side, when thus to cheer the fair one he began: "I hope we soon shall have a little sun." But she to whom the weather gave no pain, who most about her future state did think, replied with a roguish smile, "I'd rather have a daughter."

BOERS SIGN PEACE TREATY

Briton and Boer Stop Their Long Fight—Terms of Peace.

After nearly two years and eight months of a war in which the British tried its utmost to wipe the Boers from the list of nations, the conflict in South Africa has at last drawn to a close by the signing of the treaty of peace last Saturday. The terms are as follows: "His Excellency, Lord Milner; His Excellency, Mr. Steyn; General Bremner, General C. R. Dewet and Judge Hertzog, acting in behalf of the Orange Free State, and General Schalkburgher, General Delarey acting for their respective burghers, desiring to terminate the present hostilities, agree to the following terms: "The burgher forces in the field will forthwith lay down their arms and hand over all their guns, rifles and ammunition in their possession or under their control, desist from further resistance and acknowledge King Edward VII as their lawful sovereign. The manner and details of the surrender will be arranged between Lord Kitchener and Commandant-General Botha, assisted by General Delarey and Chief Commandant Dewet.

"Second—All burghers outside the limits of the Transvaal and Orange River Colony and all prisoners of war at present outside South Africa who are burghers, will on duly declaring their acceptance of the position of subjects of His Majesty, be brought back to their homes as soon as means of transport can be provided and means of subsistence assured. "Third—The burghers so returning will not be deprived of their personal liberty or property. "Fourth—No proceeding, civil or criminal, will be taken against any burghers surrendered or returning for any acts in connection with the prosecution of the war. The benefits of this clause do not extend to certain acts contrary to the usages of war, which had been notified by the Commander-in-Chief to the Boer Generals, and which shall be tried by court-martial after the close of hostilities. "Fifth—The Dutch language will be taught in the public schools of
