Jorgenson repairs watches and clocks. Work guaranteed.

Cholera Infantum.

This has long been regarded as one of the most dangerous and fatal diseases to which infants are subject. It can be cured, however, when properly treated. All that is necessary is to give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil, as directed, with each bottle, and a cure is certain. For sale by H. M. Horton, Burns; Fred Haines, Harney.

J. W. Ellsworth, representing the Morning Democrat of Baker City, was in Burns Thursday and the greater part of yesterday. He is soliciting subscriptions and writing articles for his paper. He has been connected with the Democrat about ten years, and for three years occupied the position of city editor. Mr. Ellsworth is an old schoolmate of Postmaster Waters.

A pretty good story is going around town about Editor Byrd, of the Times Herald, regarding a little incident that happened on his recent buckelberrying trip. While strolling through the tall pines one day he caught sight of what he thought was a deer lying down under a rim rock and fearing an attack turned loose with both barrels of his shot gun which he had along for protection. Not being satisfied, however, and still fearing an attack from a wounded animal, he hastily reloaded and fired two more shots. No stir. On examination with a friend, who had now come up, they found that all the shots had taken effect, not in a deer, but in a log he had mistaken for one. Some say it was really a deer, but that the animal was already dead, having been shot earlier in the day by other parties and had layed down under the rim rock and died, and that Editor Byrd, seeing the body poured four more shots into its carcass not knowing that some other hunter had already bagged the game. The hide, they continue, was literally riddled with shot, while the meat which was still in good condition had been sliced off by the shot into suitable pieces for the pan. We will not vouch for either of these yarns but leave Mr. Byrd to tell them in his own way. We but tell the tales as they were told to us.

The Southern Oregon State Normal School is making thorough preparation for the coming year's work. The buildings are being remodeled and repaired, and extensive additions to the chemical and physical department are being made. The faculty is composed of strong teachers consecrated to the work, and each department is in the hands of a specialist.

A year's course in Latin and in Economics has been added to further prepare teachers for high school work. The training department will be especially strong. A man of splendid education and wide experience will be at the head of the department. Much attention will be given to oratory, and athletics will be made prominent. The citizens of Ashland have guaranteed some $200.00 as prizes for excellence in these lines. The City Library, of 2000 well-selected volumes, is thrown open to students of the institution. Board and Lodging can be had at from $2.50 per week to $4.00. Climate healthy. Course of study practical and exhaustive. For catalogue of announcements write B. F. Mulkey, President, or Clifford Thomas, Secretary, Ashland, Oregon.

Articles of incorporation of The Home Telephone and Telegraph Company with a capital stock $10,000, were filed in the office of the county clerk Monday. The incorporators are Chas. E. Canyon, R. A. Miller and M. L. Lewis. The purpose of the company as stated in the corporation papers is "to construct, lease, buy and operate telephone and telegraph lines in Eastern Oregon and for that purpose to do any and all things necessary pertaining thereto." The real object of the company, as we get it, is to build a telephone line from Burns to Prineville and one from Burns to Ontario and Huntington. Just when work will commence we are not informed. The communication these lines will bring to us is something of great interest to all in Burns and a helping hand should be extended if necessary.

Slight injuries often disable a man and cause several days' loss of time and when blood poison develops, sometimes result in the loss of a hand or limb. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment. When applied to cuts, bruises and burns it causes them to heal quickly and without maturation, and prevents any danger of blood poison. For sale by H. M. Horton Burns; Fred Haines, Harney.

The gold production of Oregon in 1901, according to the report of the Director of the Mint, George E. Roberts, made public Monday, was greater than in any previous year, being 88,759 ounces, valued at $1,834,821.
