

OBITUARIES

Ardell June Ashton

June 12, 1934 – Sept. 27, 2015

MILWAUKIE – Ardell June Ashton, 81, formerly of John Day, died Sept. 27 in Milwaukie, after a long bout with multiple myeloma, surrounded by loved ones. A Celebration of Life will be at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 10, at Driskill Memorial Chapel, 241 S. Canyon Blvd., John Day. Interment will be at Canyon City Cemetery followed by a dessert buffet at the Outpost in John Day.

Mrs. Ashton was born June 12, 1934, in Ogden, Utah, to Anna and Lawrence Ables.

She enjoyed golf and contract bridge, toile painting, home decor, gardening, dancing, travel, relaxing at home, crossword puzzles, family and friends. She was fun-loving and left her mark on the world.

Survivors include her daughters, Teresa Ashton of Milwaukie, Paula (Hart) Culp of Gresham and Kathleen (Russell) Weaver of Lake Oswego; siblings, Donna (Craig) Smith of Bend and Paul (Cheryl) Ables of Oregon City; grandchildren, Will (Tiffany) Huffman, Christopher (Kilee) Culp, Maxwell Weaver and Spencer Weaver; six great-grandchildren; one great-great-grandchild; and extended family.

She was preceded in death by her husband, William "Bill" P. Ashton; and granddaughter, Tami Huffman.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to a charity of one's choice through Driskill Memorial Chapel.

Donald Nelson Cates

Oct. 14, 1923 – Oct. 1, 2015

Donald Nelson Cates, 91, of Mt. Vernon, died Oct. 1. A memorial service will be at 3 p.m. Friday, Oct. 16, at the Mt. Vernon Community Hall. A potluck will follow.

Mr. Cates was born Oct. 14, 1923, in Park Place, the first child of John Nelson Cates and Violetta (Fulford) Cates. The family moved to his father's home in Missouri during the Great Depression, then returned to Oregon where his father worked with the Civilian Conservation Corps building Silver Falls State Park. Times were tough and the family eventually migrated to Omak, Wash., where he started working in apple orchards when he was 13 and fell timber the summer he was 14.

In 1941, he met Evelyn Lois Leese while he was falling timber near the Leese ranch in Aeneas, Wash. They were married in Omak on Aug. 22, 1942. Their first home was in Disautel, a small logging community in Washington.

In 1944, he joined the U.S. Navy and served in World War II on a gunnery crew on the oil tanker J. H. Tuttle in the South Pacific. After the war, they returned to Omak, where their son, Roy, and daughter, Linda, were born.

The family moved to Mt. Vernon in 1951 where he worked for many years as a logger. They later owned Crossroads Service Station and Crossroads Cafe in Mt. Vernon. He worked with his son, Roy, in Cates Logging, and then with AAA Thunderbolt Fire Services with his son, daughter-in-law, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. He was still active in Thunderbolt at the time of his death.

He was involved in the Mt. Vernon community: He led a Boy Scout troop, was commander of the American Legion when the Legion hall, now the Mt. Vernon Community Center, was built. One spring break-up from logging, he worked fulltime on the Legion hall which was built with volunteer labor, much of it his. He was especially proud of the floor and rafters.

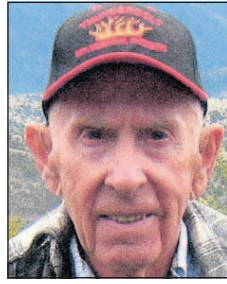

He served as mayor of Mt. Vernon and was on the school board. He and his wife were grand marshals of the Cinnabar Mountain Rendezvous in 1996.

He loved the woods and enjoyed any activity that took him to the hills – hunting, huckleberry picking, or just a long drive. Known by everyone as "Granddad," he was full of energy and urgency. He liked to get things done. At age 76 he was still working with the Thunderbolt crew on forest fires and he piled brush with them into his eighties. He took good care of his yard and garden, and particularly his fruit trees. He enjoyed good food, most especially his wife's cooking. He loved dogs and they loved him. He liked to build houses; he built six houses in Mt. Vernon, one on the coast, plus several post office buildings.

Survivors include son, Roy (Evelyn) Cates of Mt. Vernon; daughter, Linda (Tom Murray) Cates of Nelson, N.H.; granddaughter, Chris (Ken) Phillips of Fruitland, Idaho; grandsons, Mike (DeAnne) Cates of Filer, Idaho, Bryan Cates of Mt. Vernon, Brad (Krystal) Cates of Mt. Vernon, and Will Murray of New York City; many great-grandchildren and great-great grandchildren; his sister, Bertha Wells of Tumwater, Wash., and brother, Jesse Cates of Canyon City.

He was preceded in death earlier this year by his wife of 72 years, Evelyn Cates.

Arrangements are under the care of Driskill Memorial Chapel, 241 S. Canyon Blvd., John Day, OR 97845.

Natalie Cresta Robinson Slayton

March 18, 1972 – Sept. 28, 2015

NYSSA– Natalie Cresta Robinson Slayton, 44, formerly of John Day, died Sept. 28. A memorial service was held Oct. 3, at All Saints Episcopal Church in Heppner, with interment at Heppner Masonic Cemetery.

Mrs. Slayton was born March 18, 1972, in La Grande, to Dean and Florene Kygar Robinson. She was raised and attended school in Heppner. She studied anthropology and business at Blue Mountain Community College in Pendleton and Eastern Oregon University in La Grande.

She enjoyed reading, baking, gardening and sewing. Her greatest enjoyment came from spending time with her children, grandchildren and her many animals.

Survivors include her parents, Dean and Florene Robinson of Heppner; sons, Josh Slayton and Corey Slayton, both of John Day; sister, Jacklyn Robinson of Pasco, Wash.; and grandchildren, Aiden Slayton of McMinnville and Sydney Slayton of John Day.
