Jack and Katie Johns have been named Stockgrowers of the Year.

Johns to be honored by Stockgrowers

By Harriet Crum
To the Blue Mountain Eagle

At this year's Grant County Stockgrowers Association potluck dinner, Jack and Katie Johns of Fox Valley will be honored as Stockgrowers of the year. This is the second time the pair have been presented with this honor.

The stockgrowers' potluck will be at 5 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 17 at the Mt. Vernon Community Hall in Mt. Vernon. Meat will be provided.

Grant County Stockgrowers Association believe cattlemen do more to protect the environment and improve range conditions because it improves their bottom line. They want to leave the range and grass in better condition than when they received it on federal and private property.

Jack has spent 80 years in Fox Valley, except for the four years when he was in college and running his grandfather Jack Vaughan's ranch in Mollala, which was established in 1844 by a Land Grant from the President of the United States. It is the oldest ranch in Oregon owned by the same family.

On Sept. 12, 1959, Jack and Katie Herburger were married and have raised three girls, Deena Thomas, Brenda Christy and Kathie Burke.

Jack was President of the Grant County Stockgrowers three times; Vice President of the Oregon Cattlemen and Chairman of the Oregon Beef Council.

Katie was President of the Grant County Cowbells and Vice President of the Oregon Cowbells.

They were also 4-H leaders for many years.

Katie taught sewing at the Long Creek High School for three years and sewing classes around Grant County. Her passion now is making quilts. She has recently finished making three "Quilts of Valor", for their family service members who have been in the military: Deena's husband, Steve, who was in the Marine Corps for 7 years and part time during the War in Vietnam; Deena's oldest son, JR Moore, who was in the Army and spent 3 tours in Iraq; and Brenda's son, Kyle Christy, who was in the Navy and on the Nimitz ship. Katie still has one more "Quilt of Valor" for a great nephew.

In their younger years they enjoyed raising and selling saddle and work horses. Jack enjoyed team roping around the county and raised long horned cattle that were leased and sold for team roping. They furnished cattle for the Pendleton Round Up for 13 years for the calf roping and wild cow milking.

The Johns are still ranching and enjoying their six grandchildren and two great grandchildren and going to their games.

The Grant County Stockgrowers ask those planning to attend the potluck to RSVP to help with the meat order. Contact Harriet Crum, e-mail hcrum@centurytel.net or call 541-575-4340.

PRAIRIE CITY – And the cute ceramic frogs go to ...

Green Thumb Garden Club members have been out inspecting Prairie City yards and gardens, and have come up with two award-winning properties.

The club's spring honor went to Terry and Georagane Williams, and the summer one to Kim, Brian and Jacob McClung.

Each received a decorative ceramic garden frog, crafted by Donna Adams.

The long-running garden club was organized in 1964, and recognizes Prairie City property owners each year for doing their part toward the upkeep of the community.
