

THINK PINK

It could just save your life

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, a good time to discuss your risk of the disease with your doctor. Set up an appointment to explore your family's medical history and see if you are at risk. If so, consider having annual screenings. While the debate on mammography is ongoing, the fact remains: mammograms save lives. Discuss the pros and cons with your doctor and consider scheduling a mammogram. Early detection is key to survival.
