ARC NOTICE

Important notice regarding Oregon Telephone Corporation: As mandated by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), effective with the July 2016 bill, the Access Recovery Charge (ARC) will increase. For residential and single line business customers the amount will increase to $2.50 per month, per access line. Multi-line business customers will remain the same at $3.00 per month, per access line. The FCC is reducing the amount of support the Company receives from the federal universal service fund by the amount that is raised through the ARC. Under the rules adopted by the FCC, the Company must charge the ARC or lose the funds associated with the charge since that money can no longer be recovered through the federal universal service fund.
