

Stewart Scholarship deadline approaching

Blue Mountain Eagle

Grant County students of higher education can receive a helping hand with expenses through the Wayne Stewart Scholarship.

Applications must be postmarked by Friday, July 1, for the deadline.

Scholarship trust officers said they expect to distribute $560,000 in funds this year.

Last year, $581,000 was distributed to 117 students, thanks to the late benefactors Wayne Stewart of Dayville and his son Eminger Stewart III, who made provisions in their wills for a perpetual scholarship.

The scholarships are awarded for undergraduate, trade or graduate school educational expenses.

For more information, visit the Grant County Education Service District website at granted.k12.or.us. Scholarship information is at the lower right of the page.

If further assistance is needed, contact Senior Trust Officer Linda Thomas-Bush at 541-465-4120 or Renee Roe at 541-388-8732, at the Private Client Group of U.S. Bank in Bend.

CCS awards scholarships

Hannah Flower

Hannah Flower, a 2016 graduate of Dayville High School, is among six who have received scholarships from Community Counseling Solutions.

This is the first year CCS has awarded the $1,000 scholarships, which are renewable for up to three years.

The other recipients are from Riverside, Wheeler and Irrigon Junior-Senior high schools.

Students from Morrow, Wheeler, Gilliam and Grant counties are eligible for the scholarships, and must be pursuing psychology, counseling, social work or nursing fields at the college or university level.

EOU named to 'best of' online lists

Blue Mountain Eagle

Schools; and is in the top seven schools, along with Penn State and Purdue, reviewed by College Values Online for affordable online economics degrees.

Three independent ranking sources for students looking to complete their college degree online have named Eastern Oregon University to their "best of" lists for 2016.

EOU appears second on the list of 50 best online bachelor's in education published by College Choice; fourth on the roster of 50 best online liberal arts colleges for bachelor's degrees released by The Best

"These rankings spotlight what we believe are the strengths of our online programs — high academic quality, flexibility and curriculum keyed to our students' career plans and success," said Donald Wolff, EOU's interim vice provost for Academic Affairs.

Each site's ranking system is weighted slightly different, with College Choice looking at projected earnings for graduates and The Best Schools basing their selection on quality and types of programs offered, faculty strengths, school awards, rankings and reputation. Similarly, College Values Online factors in academic excellence, course offerings, faculty strengths and reputation.
