FROM THE PULPIT
Planning for everlasting life

By Al Altnow
To the Blue Mountain Eagle

It's interesting to watch people and their actions and activities, as you see so many varied things take place. As I watch others, I realize that I too fall into many of the same patterns that they do. We are taught to plan our futures, finances, vacations and, when young, we are taught to plan our education to help create our lifelong occupations. There is definitely nothing wrong with making plans and setting goals to get things done to get ahead in life. This year, there are thousands of people making plans to watch the eclipse take place. Many will travel thousands of miles and spend thousands of dollars to be able to watch an event that lasts only a few minutes. I'm not criticizing them in any way, as I plan on being where I can watch it too. I too am guilty of making all kinds of plans and spending all kinds of money on things that are temporary.

Some years back, it became a reality in my life that I had planned and spent money for all of the things that are not permanent and had forgotten to plan for something that was permanent and didn't cost any money. That one thing that I didn't plan for was where I would spend eternity.

We can make all kinds of plans, spend all kinds of money, but none of that will guarantee our salvation, which is given to us freely as Jesus went to the cross and paid the price (debt) that we could not pay.

As we approach Easter Sunday, I urge you to review your plans and make sure you have set things in motion to guarantee where you will spend eternity.

John 3:16 "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Al Altnow is the pastor of First Christian Church in John Day.

Dayville School adopting new science textbooks

Blue Mountain Eagle

Dayville School is undergoing adoption of new science textbooks and materials in alignment with the recommendation from the state of Oregon. Dayville teachers presented their recommendations to the Board of Directors at the March 14 regular meeting.

The materials are now on display, available for public review, in the school library.

The Board of Directors will act on the recommendation at the April 11 board meeting.

The materials recommended are from the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company: Inspire Science grades K-5; Glencoe iScience grades 6-8; and high school Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry and Physics.

Patrons interested in reviewing the materials can contact Superintendent Kathryn Hedrick or head secretary Lori Smith for access during the school day at 541-987-2412.

Grant Union all-class reunion being planned

Blue Mountain Eagle

An all-class reunion is being planned for Grant Union Sept. 23. The event will begin at 6 p.m. at the John Day Elks Lodge and will cost $25 per person. The Elks will provide food, and there will be live music by Frank Carlson of Baker City. Any Friday evening or Saturday afternoon activities need to be organized by individual classes. More information is available on the GUHS (John Day, OR) Alumni Facebook page and at classmates.com. Payments may be mailed to Leslie Traylor, 624 NW Bridge St., John Day, OR 97845. Checks should be payable to "Reunion Fund."

For more information, call Traylor at 541-620-4032 or 541-575-1862.
