PARKS

“It’s a great use of this park to have a community event like this,” Raschio said. “I think it’s really cool they’re doing this.”

One especially popular booth was Veraci Pizza from Bend.

Owner Cameron Jett said they cook their pizza in a mobile wood-fired oven. The oven burns apple wood at about 700 degrees with little smoke and can cook a pizza in about two minutes, according to Jett.

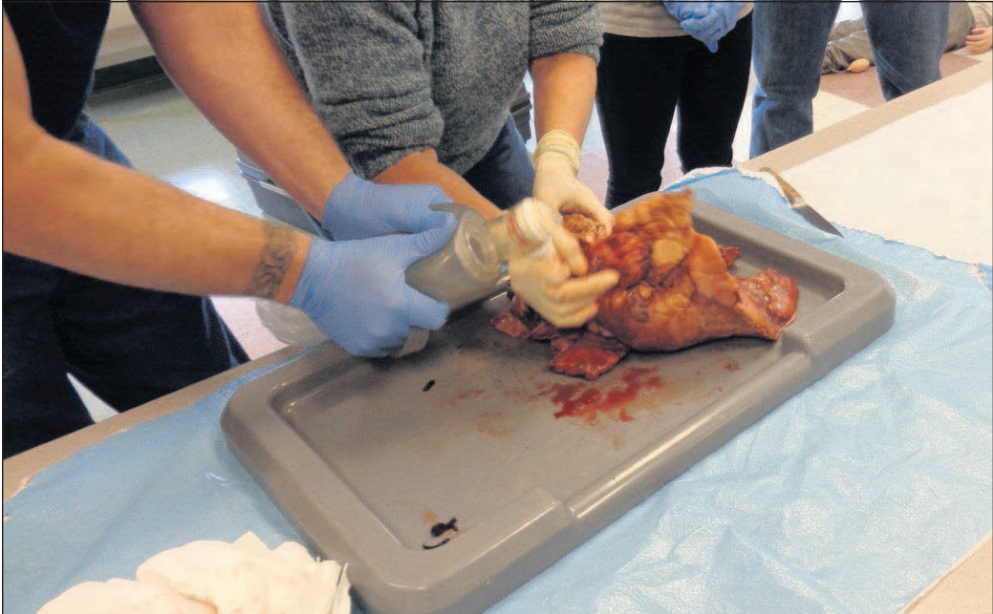

Parks and Rec board member Lisa Weigum said the district hosted the event to start providing activities for the under-served adult demographic in the area.

“Part of our board discussions were to start servicing the adult community, and we thought it would be a great time to bring in some live music, food and beverages,” Weigum said. She described the event as a test run and said they would consider future events. “If all goes well, we would be open to the idea of putting on events like this over the course of the summer,” Weigum said.

has worked very hard to reach out to communities to show they really do care about providing quality, timely emergency health care in Grant County,” Howe said. “They have listened to concerns, worked to resolve past issues, which in turn has fostered a greater sense of enthusiasm in the volunteer EMS base. As some folk in the communities have noticed this resurgence of enthusiasm in the ambulance volunteers, it has prompted them to step up to the plate and join the ranks of emergency medical providers.” Howe said Monument Fire Department members Jeremy Boyer, Quade Day, Pettit and Jeff Schafer, as well as residents Kristi Emerson, Brit-tani Hayes, Nittaya Pettit and Shannah Schafer, can now respond to calls in Monument. She said Peter Case, Jennifer Garinger and Ed Studt-mann from the Long Creek Fire Department and Tara and Melody Holmes from Spray also completed the class. “This is a huge bonus for our little communities,” she said.

Rand said the hospital hopes to host classes annually and would try to facilitate classes in outlying areas if the class numbers would support it. She said a class is currently being held in John Day with more than 10 graduates expected. Hospital CEO Derek Daly said increasing the number of people who could respond to emergencies improved the health system in the county. “Any time we can have an opportunity to offer a class that strengthens our numbers or increases access to care in our county, it’s a good thing,” Daly said.

PRESENTED BY

TERRI CLARK

Hailing from Medicine Hat, Alberta, Canada, Terri got her start playing for tips at Tootsie's Orchid Lounge, a honky-tonk bar across the alley from Nashville's historic Ryman Auditorium. She signed with Mercury Records and emerged as a distinctive voice on the country music landscape – driving, passionate, spirited – and every bit her own woman.

The 8-time CCMA Entertainer of the Year has also taken home the CCMA Female Vocalist of the Year award five times. She has made her mark on radio with more than twenty singles, including six Number Ones in Canada and the USA – hits such as “Better Things To Do,” “Poor Poor Pitiful Me,” “Girls Lie Too,” and “I Just Wanna Be Mad.”

Terri has sold over five million albums and achieved Gold, Platinum, Double Platinum, and Triple Platinum status as certified by the CRIA and RIAA. She also has the honor of being the only Canadian female artist to be a member of the Grand Ole Opry.

Terri is a dynamic, no-holds-barred live performer and one of the rare female country artists capable of throwing down some impressive guitar work. Terri has toured with such superstars as Brad Paisley, Toby Keith, Brooks & Dunn, Reba McEntire, and George Strait. In addition, she continues to headline sold-out tours throughout the US and Canada.

Terri's album, Some Songs, is available now on iTunes and www.terriclark.com.
