

GRANT COUNTY SENIORS

Monument Seniors

try so the repercussions of this quarantine have not affected us so drastically like those who live in the city. I encourage you all to call on each other. A phone call can brighten someone's day. Call and check up on the elderly or widows. They might need your help. I call out to all you prayer warriors out there that we pray for repentance and healing from the Lord, for only he can fix this situation that is plaguing our nation and the whole world.

I praise the Lord for some rain that we got this past week. I noticed I've got some snow peas or snap peas growing. Remember that I don't like to plant in neat little rows, my free spirit in me takes control, and I just scatter all the seeds in the bed. I figure, if it grows tightly, the weeds will be choked out. I am not your conventional gardener. I am sure I would drive your old-fashioned gardener crazy with my methods of madness. Ha.

I also saw some tiny little lettuce sprouts growing. I am excited. I planted another box bed with spinach. I first had to dig out some cat poop, though, yuck. It was old and dry so it wasn't too difficult, but still, it was a little nasty. I covered it with wire so those silly cats don't get any ideas of using it for their personal litter box. My kids are helping and we should be able to have a good garden growing this year with lots of veggies to eat.

Psalm 98:2 "The LORD hath made known His salvation: His righteousness hath He openly shewed in the sight of the heathen."

Prairie City Seniors

Whoa! What happened? Oh, don't get excited. It's only our normal Grant County spring — which resulted in having to wear my just-put-away winter coat for a few hours. That's why we don't put things too far away, don't you know. It was good to have the rain, though. It's just hard to get used to those 20-degree drops in temperature from one day to the next! Does give us something to complain about besides the virus quarantine.

Our meal on Earth Day consisted of drumsticks, macaroni salad, cream corn, bread and a delicious Jell-o cake with real whipped cream. Our cooks do like their whipped cream! And so do we! 'Tis a blessing. Thanks to our cooks and helpers, Laura and Laura, Tom, Angie, Pam, Carla, Delores and Carole, for all the good food and service. And thanks to all you who have taken up the gauntlet and come to the hall to pick up your meal. We appreciate it.

Speaking of Earth Day, I got to wondering why certain items that are supposed to be environmentally friendly are packaged in plastic. After all, that substance has not proved to be the be-all and end-all that it was cracked up to be. Just wondering.

It will be a good day when we can all get back to normal and there will be yard sales available! I've had to throw away two shirts this winter due to them falling apart because of age. I get 90% of my clothes at yard sales and thrift stores. Gonna have to pull out the ol' sewing machine and make a new shirt, I guess, since I can't go out and work in the garden/yard in the rain.

So, you can be tracked by your smartphone. We get a big kick out of extrapolating that scenario with Derrol and his forays to the cemetery. Not much information to be gathered there.

And in case you missed this item in the little magazine that comes out in the Blue Mountain Eagle, I want to inform you. Ladies, this is why we have unwanted bulges in our bodies: "As soon as your estrogen is really low and the tank is empty, fat cells on our hips and thighs — standing by in case we got pregnant — migrate to our belly. It's a natural effect of aging." My question is, why do the fat cells migrate? And why to the belly? If some beauty company wants to do something really good for women, find out the answers to those two questions and do something about it that doesn't cost an arm and a leg!

Don't remember if I've told you Derrol's preventative medicine for all bugs: pickle juice. I can count on the fingers of one hand how many times he has been ill from a virus in the last almost 60 years. The vitamin companies should get busy on that!

1 Timothy 5:23 "Stop drinking only water, and use a little wine because of your stomach and your frequent illnesses."

OUT OF THE PAST

75 years ago Farm home at Hamilton completely destroyed by fire

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graves was completely destroyed by fire on Thursday. The origin of the fire was unknown. The loss was partially covered by the insurance.

50 years ago Janice Louise Davis weds Neil J. Bauer

Baskets of yellow gladioli and white daisies decorated the sanctuary of Pendleton Episcopal Church of the Redeemer when Janice Louise Davis and Neil Jay Bauer were wed at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, March 22. The double-ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Dirk T. Rinehart. Miss Roberta Parent was vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Dirk Rinehart, organist, who also played the nuptial marches.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis of Pendleton. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bauer, also of Pendleton.

Escorted to the altar by her father, and given in marriage by her parents, the bride was gowned in a sheath of bridal satin with alencon lace cage overlay which fell from an empire waist into a chapel train. Sequins and seed pearls detailed the bodice and wrists.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion with lace applique fell from a crown of petals outlined with seed pearls. Atop a white Bible she carried yellow rosebuds and white daisies.

Mrs. Gary Jackson, Beaverton, was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Karen Bauer, Pendleton, sister of the groom, and Andrea Magoon, Pendleton. Kellie Jackson, Beaverton, niece of the bride was flower girl. They wore matching floor-length gowns of avocado sheer over taffeta with velvet banding. Yellow daisies were entwined in their hair. The bride's nephew, Darin Jackson, Beaverton, carried the rings.

James Cannon, Long Creek, was best man. Seating guests were Steven Davis, Pendleton, brother of the bride, and Steve McKern, Mt. Vernon, cousin of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the parish hall with Mrs. Bob Lick, Pendleton, cousin of the bride, in charge.

Mrs. Davis chose a frock of off-white lace with yellow accessories for her daughter's wedding. The groom's mother wore a knit ensemble of beige with avocado pattern. Yellow rosebud corsages completed their attire.

Following a wedding trip to coastal points the couple will be at Medford while the groom completes his senior year at Southern Oregon College, Ashland. The bride has been employed at Pendleton Woolen Mills and had attended Blue Mountain Community College two years previously.
