This weekend

Scandinavia takes center stage at Liberty concert

North Coast Symphonic Band will present a free concert, "The Scandinavian Connection," on Sunday, April 8, in the Liberty Theater, 1203 Commercial St., Astoria.

Guest Conductor is Joan Paddock, musical director at Linfield College.

The concert includes wind band selections from Scandinavian composers, including Jean Sibelius, Edward Grieg and Carl Nielsen as well as highlights from "Frozen," a Disney movie with a distinct Scandinavian influence.

The concert will be preceded by a performance by the jazz band Equinox, a trio comprised of guitarist David Drury, bassist Todd Pederson and flutist Shelley Loring Barker.

The Astoria Scandinavian Midsummer Festival 2018 Court will appear in costume for a "meet and greet" in the lobby during intermission to discuss their heritage and the upcoming 51st annual Midsummer Festival in Astoria.

Astoria Scandinavian Heritage Association President Loran Mathews and Scandinavian Heritage Park Committee chairwoman Judi Lampi will be in the lobby before the concert and during intermission to talk about progress for the park.

Audience members are encouraged to wear Scandinavian sweaters or authentic folk wear from Scandinavia.

Door open at 1:15 p.m., Equinox takes the stage at 1:30 and The Scandinavian Connection begins at 2 p.m.

For more information, call 503-325-2431.

Color run brings blast of cheer

Color the Coast for autism, a 5-kilometer run and walk, begins at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 7, at the Astoria-Warrenton-Seaside KOA on Ridge Road.

The event includes raffles, carnival games, rock painting, tie-dyeing, a resource table and a flea-market table, autism merchandise and, weather permitting, a bounce house. The KOA is providing a free lunch for registered participants and a 1984 live band in the evening that's kid-appropriate. The event opens at 10 a.m. and the walk/run starts at 11:30 a.m.

Registration is $14 for adults, $11 for ages 3 to 12 and free for those 2 and younger. For more information, contact the Autism Society at 503-636-1676.

Crafters urged to stamp out hunger

Let's Stamp Out Hunger, a fund-raiser for the Clatsop Emergency Food Bank, is from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday, April 7, in the commons at Astoria High School, 1001 W. Marine Drive.

The event is an all-day craft fair for card-makers, scrap-bookers and other paper crafters. Participants should bring their own projects, tools and materials to work on, but there also will be make-and-takes with training and craft supplies provided each hour. Lunch is provided.

Admission is $10 or eight cans of food. Raffle tickets are $5 each or three for $10.

For more information, contact Cindy Miller at 503-313-6692 or go online to letsstampouthunger.wordpress.com.

Men dressed as women raise $$

The Astoria Downtown Historic District Association's "Jane Barnes Revue" is set for 6:30 p.m. Saturday, April 7, in the lobby of the Astor Hotel, 1401 Commercial St., Astoria.

The revue, a "topsy-turvy fashion show" featuring men dressed as women, is a fund-raiser for the historic district.

Tickets are $25.

For more information, contact Sarah Lu Heath at 503-791-7940.
