

“WE DIDN'T JUST BUY A LOAN, WE CREATED A VISION TOGETHER.”

John Bryant | Owner | No-Li Brewhouse

Who knew a brewhouse and a bank had so much in common?

When No-Li looked for a bank, they found something more. A true partner. Columbia Bank shared their vision for the brewery and their commitment to community. From helping them create jobs, to giving back, Cindy and John Bryant tapped into what makes us different. See how good your relationship with a bank can be. Visit WhereRelationshipsRule.com.

Revitalization meeting is Monday

An Economic Vitality Roadmap action team planning session is set for 5:30 to 8 p.m. Monday, Sept. 17, in the library at Warrenton High School, 1700 St. Main Ave.

All businesses and residents are urged to participate.

Speakers include Shawna Sykes of the Oregon Employment Department and Anna Stampher of Clatsop Works.

Participants will work on Warrenton's top three initiatives: nuisance property clean-up, downtown revitalization and workforce development.

The session is sponsored by the city of Warrenton in conjunction with Rural Development Initiatives, a nonprofit organization with a goal of revitalizing Oregon's small towns.

States allow two days for sturgeon

Anglers will have two days to get out on the Columbia River to catch and retain white sturgeon under rules approved last week by the Oregon and Washington departments of fish and wildlife.

The two-day recreational fishery is Sept. 15 and 22.

The white sturgeon season is about two weeks earlier than last year, when inclement weather impacted success rates and overall harvest.

Fishers are expected to catch 1,231 fish in the two days.
