Brew Cup gathers suds and tunes

The Pacific Northwest Brew Cup, which features live music and 36 craft beverages on tap, will run Sept. 28-30 at the Barbey Maritime Center, next to the Columbia River Maritime Museum.

It is open to all ages.

For a complete lineup of musical groups and beers, visit pacificnorthwestbrewcup.com.

While tasting craft beer is the showcase, local wineries and distilleries and local food trucks will offer samples.

The event is a fund-raiser for the Astoria Downtown Historic District Association

Angora club to hike Oswald West

Angora Hiking Club has organized a moderate-rated hike in Oswald West State Park on Saturday, Sept. 29.

To carpool, meet at the River View Platform parking lot on Marine Drive between Sixth and Seventh streets at 9 a.m. Other participants can meet near the park's restrooms at 9:50 a.m.

Hike leader June Baumler will guide hikers to a shuttle car that will take them to the starting point near Falcon Cove.

The hike includes some hills near the ocean shoreline with some hill climbing.

Membership is not required to participate. For further details, contact Baumler at 503-368-4323.

Warrenton Transportation System Plan Update

Open House No. 2 & Town Hall, October 10, 2018

Warrenton, Oregon – A public open house will be held on October 10 to discuss the Warrenton Transportation System Plan (TSP) Update. The public event will be held between 5:00 – 7:00 pm at the City of Warrenton Community Center, 170 SW 3rd St. This meeting will have an open house format and participants are encouraged to arrive at any time during the event. This is an opportunity for community members to learn about the TSP update and give feedback about identified solutions to current and future transportation challenges and issues in Warrenton. The city's updated Transportation System Plan will help guide improvements for driving, walking, biking, transit and other transportation modes over the next 20 years.

So far the project team has:

- Developed a recommended package of solutions and strategies for addressing transportation deficiencies and needs for each travel mode, based on community feedback
- Identified potential funding options for the City to consider
- Made recommendations for updating City transportation standards and guidelines for mobility targets, roadway cross-sections, local street connectivity, and more.

Immediately following the open house on October 10 at 7 pm, is a town hall with Mayor Balensifer where attendees can ask any question about the TSP update or any other city project such as the Economic Vitality Road Map and future plans for downtown Warrenton.

The open house portion is designed for community members to review work to date and help the project team prioritize solutions and strategies in the TSP. The project team is particularly interested in getting community input on ways to address these issues and make travel in Warrenton safer, easier, and more welcoming and enjoyable. The open house will include more information about the overall process and schedule for the TSP update, as well as interactive stations for drawing, writing, and talking, with a focus on ideas and solutions that can help address current and potential future problems. Again, the format is open and community members can come any time during the event to participate.

On October 11, the Warrenton Planning Commission is scheduled to hold a work session that is open to the public and then public hearings in November to review the final plan.

To learn more about the project and tell us what you think – and for those who cannot attend the open house – please visit the project's website at <http://warrentontsp.com>. Those interested can also contact Kevin A. Cronin, Warrenton Community Development Director, at cityplanner@ci.warrenton.or.us or 503-861-0920.

Warrenton falls hard to Knappa

BY BRUCE DUSTIN
The Columbia Press

The Warrenton/Knapa football game on Sept. 21 was all wet and Warrenton was at a 36-14 deficit at half time.

The Warriors were behind, but a comeback seemed hopeful since they'd had a couple of strong offensive plays.

But no such luck and the final score was 70-21.

"I have to give credit to Knappa and their players for making some big plays," said Ian O'Brien, the Warrior's head football coach. "They are the No. 1-rated team at the 2A level for a reason and showed it last night."

There were some bright spots in the first half with Warrenton moving the ball well at times.

"We just have to finish drives and wrap up and make tackles," O'Brien said. "It is tough to be competitive in games when we give up that many big plays."
