

KOA's pool will host senior aquanastics class

A new class in Aquanastics is under way. It meets from 9 to 10 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays through Nov 20 at the KOA pool, 1100 Ridge Road.

The class is sponsored by Clatsop Community College and ENCORE, Exploring New Concepts Of Retirement Education, an association of retirement-age people who share a love of learning.

ENCORE offers short-term courses, which are often led by members and cover a wide range of topics, including science, health, art, music, literature, history and current events.

The water fitness class is energizing and strengthening, yet gentle on the joints. Swimming ability is not required.

Classes are in a 3- to 5-foot heated pool. To register, call Kathleen Hudson at 503 861-2802.

Blight: City hopes to buy horror on Main Street

Continued from Page 1 out," City Manager Linda Engbretson said. "The goal is to clean it up and remove the blight and turn the property around."

"The neighbors have been complaining about it," Balensifer said.

Were it owned by a private individual, the city would demand they clean it up.

"This is blight No. 1 in the city, right next to the blue house that went down on Harbor," Balensifer said.

"The Warrenton Urban Renewal Agency is actively revitalizing the downtown corridor and this property falls within the URA boundary," the written offer letter states. "The property is seriously blighted, is an active nuisance case, and is a highly visible property."

Once Duoos has received the city's written request, the property sale would go before the Clatsop County Board of Commissioners for consideration.
