Benefit raises $45,000 for Scandinavian Heritage Park

A benefit dinner held recently to raise money for Astoria's Scandinavian Heritage Park brought in $45,000, bringing total fundraising efforts for the park's construction to more than $400,000.

The Nordic-themed dinner was held at Carruther's Restaurant in Astoria with Special Appeal leaders Mark Kujula and Merianne Myers providing the entertainment.

The nonprofit Astoria Scandinavian Heritage Association has an agreement with the city of Astoria to build the park on the Astoria Riverwalk between 15th and 16th streets.

The final design and engineering plans have been approved. The project goes out for bid when the total fundraising goal is met.

Organizers hope the project will be ready for dedication in June 2020.

Seaside man faces child pornography charges after raid

A Seaside man was arrested on child pornography charges after Seaside police raided his home.

Norman Stanley Hall, 50, was booked at Clatsop County Jail on suspicion of encouraging child sex abuse, using a child in display of sexually explicit conduct and possession of child pornography.

Seaside Police Department obtained a search warrant based on an online investigation the agency conducted. The warrant was served Friday at his home in the 800 block of Oceanway St.

Hall was arrested at that time.

There is no information to indicate the victims are local, according to a police press release. The content was obtained from multiple online sources.

Anyone with information about the case or other cases is asked to contact Detective Shauna Wood at 503-738-6311.
