

Local RN lauded by March of Dimes

Jamee Meier, a registered nurse and 16-year employee at Columbia Memorial Hospital, was named a Nurse of the Year by the March of Dimes.

It's the fifth year in a row that a CMH nurse has received an award.

Meier was named the Ambulatory/Clinic Care winner for Oregon and Southwest Washington and was recognized at an awards ceremony in Portland on June 7. The award goes to a nurse who demonstrates excellence in care to out-patients.

"It is exciting and humbling to be chosen by your peers for this honor, not just for one thing that you've done, but for the whole of what you've done in your career," Meier said.

CMH nurses Margaret Santee, Jenny Wołosky, Laura Brown and Kendra Gohl were Nurse of the Year winners in 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018.

Meier joined CMH in 2003 as a student in the maternity unit. She has served as a floor nurse, clinic nurse supervisor, clinic manager and director of CMH Medical Group.
