

Conservancy plans moth safari, bird walk, more

A moth safari, a botanical drawing workshop, and other free walks and workshops are scheduled in August at Circle Creek Conservation Center, a nature preserve open to the public at the south end of Seaside.

Registration is open now. North Coast Land Conservancy acquired Circle Creek 15 years ago.

Naturalist Mike Patterson will lead an early morning birding walk through a variety of habitats along Circle Creek from 8 to 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 2.

Patterson will lead the moth safari from 8 to 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 17.

Circle Creek Conservation Center is on Rippet Road at the south end of Seaside. From US 101, turn west onto Rippet Road and follow it to the two barns at the end of the road.

Roots artist to perform at KALA

Seth Walker, a national roots/blues/soul artist, performs at 8 p.m. Friday, Aug. 23, at KALA, 1017 Marine Drive, Astoria.

Tickets are $20 and available online at libertyastoria.showare.com. Will call tickets will be available at the door.

The KALA center has a full bar and is open to ages 16 and older; minors must be accompanied by an adult.

Church offers weeklong Bible school

Children throughout Clatsop County are invited to "Roar: Life is Wild; God is Good."

The vacation Bible school runs Aug. 12 to 16 at Warrenton Christian Church, 1376 S.E. Anchor Ave.

At Roar, kids discover that God is good even when life gets wild. Kids participate in Bible-learning activities, sing songs, play teamwork-building games, devour treats, experience one-of-a-kind wild Bible adventures, collect Bible memory buddies to remind them of God's love, and test out fun science gizmos they can take home.

Roar is for kids ages 3 through those going into sixth grade and runs from 6 to 8:30 p.m. each day. For more information or to register, call the church at 503-861-1714.

Pan flute artist comes to PAC

Pan flute artist Sean Koreski will perform classical music accompanied by a chamber organ at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 24, at the Clatsop Community College Performing Arts Center, 588 16th St., Astoria.

Koreski's shows feature an unusual interpretation of Bach, Mozart, Tchaikovsky, Purcell and others.

He'll use a variety of pan flutes from around world.

Joining him will be guitarist Alberto Benitez and organist Gary Becerra.

Tickets are $15 for adults and $10 for those 15 to 17 and will be available at the door, which opens half an hour before the performance.

Event to benefit Special Olympics

A barbecued ribs buffet dinner and silent auction to raise funds for Special Olympics is set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 17, at the Seaside Convention Center.

All proceeds will stay in Clatsop County, providing sports training and competition for those living with intellectual disabilities.

The fundraiser includes a slide show, music and door prizes.

Admission is $45, which includes dinner, one beverage ticket for the no-host bar and a bidding number for the auction.
