Meeting on elk set in Gearhart

The city of Gearhart will hold a special work session on elk management at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 29.

Mayor Paulina Cockrum will preside over the meeting which includes an introduction to Oregon Solutions and the Clatsop Plains Elk Project.

Guest speakers are Manuel Padilla, Oregon Solutions project manager, and Paul Atwood, assistant district wildlife biologist for Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife.

They'll provide information about the elk management subcommittee, elk trends in Gearhart, culling, and elk movement corridors.

There will be time at the end of the meeting for questions and answers.

The meeting will be held virtually through the GoTo-Meeting application. Instructions are on the city of Gearhart's website.
