Campers will learn to survive and thrive

Lewis and Clark National Historical Park will have an online "Survive and Thrive in Nature!" virtual nature survival camp.

The weeklong class will be held July 12 to 16, but registration for the camp opens Monday, May 24.

Campers can take part in fun activities from their home, as led by counselors live and online from 9 a.m. to noon each day.

Nature Survival Camp is open to youth entering fourth through ninth grades in the 2021-22 school year or age equivalent.

Registration is free, although an optional activity pack with supplies for each day's events is $50. The camp is limited to 25 people.

Participation requires the ability for campers to have access to the internet, and to have technological capacity to sign onto the WebEx conference delivery platform.

The park will provide full instructions on how to do so.

For more information or to request a registration form, email Lewi_Education@nps.gov.
