Senior Marlie Annat sings the National Anthem at the beginning of graduation ceremonies June 11.

Class of '21: Embodying a Warrior spirit

plore you to invest your time wisely and to live each day as if it were your last. Tell people how much they matter to you. Take up a new hobby. Apply for that job. ... I encourage you to live intentionally and to be tenacious in everything you do."

The June 11 ceremony for the 103rd graduating class of Warrenton High School began with singing of the National Anthem by classmate Marlie Annat and a brief talk by Principal Josh Jannusch.

"Graduation is an exciting time," Jannusch said. "It's both an ending and a beginning. This year in particular is filled with memories. ... This year is one like no other for us. Your class has taken all the changes in stride. We definitely had to do things in a different way this year and you excelled."

Salutatorian Ann Heyen told classmates they're graduating with a true understanding of what it means to be a Warrior.

"Despite the fact our mascot is a purple W, the class of 2021 has embodied the spirit of a warrior more than any other class."

Before diplomas were handed out by the school board, those gathered were treated to a slide show of their high school years as well as home snapshots of the seniors as children.
