Golf: Local links makes Top 100 club

can have for golf.”

Gearhart Golf Links started out in the late 1880s as a three-hole course built by Scottish immigrants who missed the sport and thought Gearhart's meadows were similar to those in their native country. By 1892, golf was offered as a regular pastime for guests at the Hotel Gearhart.

Now an 18-hole four-hour course, its history makes Gearhart Golf Links the oldest course west of the Mississippi River.

Gearhart Golf Links is owned by Tim Boyle, president and chief executive officer of Columbia Sportswear. He leases the 34-room Gearhart Hotel and The Sand Trap pub to McMenamins.

The links are open 365 days a year – with free golf on Christmas day in exchange for canned food donations.

Bangild's favorite thing about Gearhart Golf Links: “It's the people, for sure. I love the fact that, at the end of our Men's Club and Ladies' Club, you're sitting in a room with a crabber, a logger, a cardiologist, a school teacher, a cartographer, and a police officer and you wouldn't know the difference. Everybody plays with everybody. We're all friends here.”

Nearly 100 panelists judged the courses for Golf Magazine on enjoyment, design attributes, challenge, and surroundings/environment.

The top 10: Bethpage Black in Farmingdale, N.Y.; Lawsonia at Green Lake, Wis.; Sand Hollow in Hurricane, Utah; Rustic Canyon in Moorpark, Calif.; Wild Horse in Gothenburg, Neb.; French Lick/Ross in French Lick, Ind.; George Wright in Hyde Park, Mass.; Bethpage Red in Farmingdale, N.Y.; The Quarry at Giant's Ridge in Biwabik, Minn.; and Belvedere in Charlevoix, Mich.
