Nonprofit radio station's pledge drive begins soon

KMUN's Fall Pledge Drive begins Sept. 20.

Volunteer programmers will be asking residents to call, click or send a donation to the station, with a goal of 100 new members and $50,000 collectively.

Member support accounts for about a third of the station's budget.

The number of members and donations are important to the grants KMUN receives for the rest of the budget.

Local grantors use the figures to determine the amount of grants from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, which accounts for another third of the budget.

"I'm excited about several elements of the fall drive," Membership Director Janet Fryberger said. "We're back to a shorter, one-week format, programmers are back in the air room, and we've introduced a couple of new payment methods."

Donors can pay by debit or credit card, text-to-donate by texting KMUN to 44-321.

Of KMUN's 1,262 members, 369 contribute monthly.

Among the station's programs are Joanne Ridout's "Columbia River Ship Report," Teresa and Jessica's "In Season" show, plus soul, funk, folk, reggae and classical music.
