

WHS band director leads symphony

Warrenton High School Band Director Michael McClure is guest conductor for a North Coast Symphonic Band concert.

"Dance Your Cares Away," part of the group's 42 season, is set for 2 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 6, at the Liberty Theatre, 1203 Commercial St. It's the second concert of the season.

The music will be light, fun, and recognizable, organizers said.

Several pieces are band arrangements of operatic works. "Russian Sailor's Dance" is part of a ballet. Other dance music includes "Folk Songs from the Southern Appalachians," and "ABBA on Broadway."

Doors open at 1 p.m. and the Astoria Jazz Combo will perform concert prelude music from 1:30 to 2.

Admission is $15 for adults and $8 for students. Advanced tickets can be purchased at the box office or online at libertyastoria.showare.com. Tickets also will be available at the door starting at noon the day of the concert.

Budding 'biz kids' sought by market

Young people with business ideas are encouraged to participate in the Young Entrepreneur program through Astoria Sunday Market.

The program is for those age 5 to 19 interested in making money during the summer.

An open house is set for 6 p.m. Monday, Jan. 31, in the Paulson Pavilion at Liberty Theatre, 1203 Commercial St.

The program is sponsored by the market and 4-H.

For more information, visit the "Biz Kidz" page at astoriasundaymarket.com or call the 4-H office at 503-325-8573.

Class teaches how to live with pain

Living Well With Chronic Conditions, a free six-week workshop designed to help people gain control of their lives and feel better, begins with an informational session on Jan. 31.

The class will be held virtually, via Zoom.

Classes are from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Mondays, Feb. 7 through March 14.
