A very large rattlesnake was killed in Waldo on the 29th ult. Three young ladies of the town did the killing. Rah.

Hon. A. A. Porter has sold his residence in town to Mr. Galvin. We are sorry to say Mr. Porter intends to move to his farm on Grave creek.

C. K. Chanslor sold four acres of land on Gilbert creek to a San Franciscan recently, who is building a residence thereon.

Joseph Stauffer, of Applegate, came in and subscribed for the COURIER, ordering it sent to Illinois, whither he is bound. He will return in the near future.

Mr. Rich and family took a trip to the hills last week. They made Grave creek their headquarters. Mr. Rich reports game very scarce. He killed a deer however.

Guy Deming won the prize at the rink last Saturday, which consisted of a pair of skates. He run around the large hall twenty times in two and one half minutes.

We are so crowded this week that some very valuable matter has to be laid over again. An interesting letter from Gold Hill and some church news being a portion of it.

Mrs. F. W. Sawyer of Kerbyville was over last week to consult a physician. Dr. VanDyke performed a very successful operation, removing a large portion of diseased jaw bone.

C. B. Davidson of Williams creek brought to our office a gooseberry stalk twenty feet and four inches in length which we have now on exhibition and can be seen at any time by the curious.

W.K.L. amstee 1-5 19/18/18

Thomas P. Lee has the good will of this office for the largest water melon we have yet seen.

Two families of immigrants are camped on 4th street. They are from the vicinity of Ashland and are enroute to the interior of the county in search of lands.

Jacob Wimer, Jacob McDaniels, W. N. Campbell, A. N. Jess, Mr. Daniels and C. Nickerson were all in town from Applegate Wednesday. Mr. Campbell has our thanks for a box of fine plums.

We are much pleased to learn that our old friend Thos. G. Reames, has been appointed Postoffice Inspector. This is a victory for Southern Oregon, and Tom will make a victory of it in the inspectorship, too.

Having two of the finest and best improved small farms in Southern Oregon, I desire to sell one of them. All under cultivation. For terms, enquire of R. D. SANDFORD, Grant's Pass.

Letters which have been received from Iowa and Wisconsin and many other points speak seriously of the drought. One from Iowa says "everything is dying for water" so that Josephine county is not alone in the need of rain.

R. A. Booth former publisher of the Drain Echo has retired. E. W. Kuykendall former foreman assumes the management of the paper. Our friend Benson of this city speaks so favorably of the Echo that we feel kindly toward it ourselves and wish it success.

Louis Solomon has been up the valley. He says he got the best living rig at the celebrated stables of "Bob" Westrop, at Central Point, that he has ever driven in this county. That's our opinion of "Bob" anyway, that he gives full value for money paid him.

A superstitious subscriber who found a spider in a of his paper wants to know if it is considered a bad omen. Nothing of the kind. The spider was merely looking over the columns of his paper to see what merchant was not advertising, so that it could spin its web across the store door, and be free from disturbance.

Mr. M. S. Booth of Seattle, W. T., is here looking after chrome and quartz. He speaks in very favorable terms of our mining resources, and thinks with the completion of the C. & O. R. R. will come men and money that will fully develop our mines with good results.

The road supervisor of Kerbyville road district reports to the county commissioners that the bridge across Deer creek on the main road is not safe for more than 2000 lbs. Commissioner Payne authorizes us to say that the county will not be responsible to anyone who may drive a heavier load than 2000 pounds upon it.

We noticed a peice of barley the other day that had been harvested and were astonished at the amount of grain left upon the ground. The grain was short, and in cradling it at least one fourth of it went through the cradle fingers to the ground, there to remain almost a total loss. Such harvesting is a disgrace to the farmer. If you don't want to starve to death these hard times get a rake and save your grain by raking it up clean.

The Ladies Library Association has been organized with the following officers: Mrs. C. M. Stone, President; Mrs. J. K. Pigney, Vice President; Mrs. M. C. Van Dyke, Secretary; Mrs. K. M. Kinney, Treasurer. There will be a meeting at the Good Templars room Thursday evening Aug. 12th, for the purpose of receiving members. The committee especially request all who have pledged themselves to be there, and all others desiring to become members.

The death of Wm. Borgman is another severe shock to Josephine county. Mr. Borgman was one of our best citizens, always honest and very industrious. While life was in his body no one fully appreciated his real value in the community. Now he is gone we wish him back. Heart disease or rheumatism of the heart was most likely the cause as he was afflicted with rheumatism, though he may have been sun-struck as he was working in a hot place.

Mr. Stapleton, long a resident of Salem, was in town last week on business with the S. P. D. & L. Co., purchasing 30,000 feet of sugar-pine lumber of them to be used in the completion of the Statehouse. In a conversation with the gentleman, he remarked that he came after some of our sugar-pine lumber. It is a matter of much importance to Southern Oregon that she possesses such extensive forests of valuable sugar-pine, and now that outside markets are seeking that class of lumber, it is but a natural law of commerce that we go to work, manufacture and export large quantities of it.

Two good boys over on Applegate who fortunately have good parents and good homes, got a delusive notion in their heads a short time ago that all this world is good so accordingly they ignored the good things which they had long enjoyed for better things prospective and "hit out" over the broad expanse this "illiee" lays out before us all. To their surprise the aforesaid "illiee" was cold and their money did not last always. Like good sensible boys capable of becoming wise, they returned to their mama's and papa's where they can be found and where we hope they will remain until their backbones are staunch enough to brave the rigid besetments of this arctic molehill.

We have made diligent inquiry of late to ascertain as near as possible the extent of the damage by the spring frosts to fruit crops and also to learn the extent and probable yield of other crops. The peach crop is extremely light. Apples are about a half crop. The grape crop is good. Berries have borne lightly. Prunes and plums will yield lightly. Vegetables, melons, corn and other products in favorable localities will yield heavy crops.

Grain and hay is we think, fully up to the average. We notice a general lack of cultivation all over the country, and a sloven way of gathering the crops even after they have gone to all the trouble of raising them. The people do not seem to fully understand that hard times are upon us, but they are, and will remain hard for Oregon until by energy and economy we drive them from our doors.

Deputy U. S. Internal Revenue Collector, W. A. Owen, of Central Point gave us a very pleasant call. Mr. Owen is one of the land-marks of Jackson county and a congenial gentleman. In his own peculiarly humorous style he gave us a funny account of a bit of law as elucidated in Jacksonville a few days ago. It seems the city recorder assumed the role of auctioneer, and proceeded to sell property at public auction without first having procured a license. The city marshal placed the recorder-auctioneer under arrest for violating a city ordinance. After considerable ceremony it was discovered that the offender was also the court before whom the case must be tried. In this dilemma the matter was finally referred to the city "dads," who after a retrospective examination of the case, ordered the marshal to "turn him loose."

We've had a regular "frolic" over at our house which was all caused by Pressly, the barber who keeps a sample lot on hand. We approached uncle Pressley like this: "You haint got no way of banging off 'cowlicks' here you?" Pressley said "Umph," set an onion in the window and fired away at the spittoon.

"Well," says we, "here goes for all day," so we took the chair, stuck our feet out through the transom over the door and Pressley went to work. The kind of crop wanted was a regular military cut with long shears. After awhile it dawned upon us that the thing was not altogether square, but thinking that it was Tufts's mower running up in the field, we dozed off again. Awaking about noon we learned by inquiry that he was actually running a full-fledged law mow-up on the summit of our contrariness, and we were sorely afflicted with an aggravated case of the "Kanthelps."

He had mowed us down to the chair-back and the little thing was "chawing" away on the chair like a pug-nosed dog on a grapevine. "Say, Pressley, what's that onion got to do with it?" "When your head's a fac simile of the onion, I quit," replied the sample lot.

Afterward, we went up to dinner. We walked about the house with our hat on and stormed about milk bills, rents, rotten vegetables and everything else, when all at once a puff of wind through an open door lifted our hat and sent it across the house.

"Where have you been to Isaac?" was the first shriek, and we lit out. We have not been back since. The same day that we left there was a regular shower of iron boards, dsh rigs, boot jacks and press boards up there. They went the same way we did. It seemed to be perfectly natural for us all to fall in together and run with the wind. Price 35 cents.

Our Town. Last Sunday to satisfy a curiosity we "tramped" the town and counted every building in it. We find that there are 135 residences and buildings used for residences. There are 51 business houses all told. Besides these are the M. E. church, court house and jail, warehouse, depot and warehouse, two livery stables, three windmills, town hall and rink, I. O. O. F., Masonic and I. O. G. T. lodge rooms, brewery unfinished, saw mill, sash and door factory size 50 by 125 two stories, two bakeries, academy, two laundries, six stall round house, R. R. machine shops, wagon shop, brick kiln and a ten thousand dollar bridge almost completed. Add to this 23 barns and we have 226 buildings in our little city and the town no more than 23 months old. This does not include a host of small buildings, nor do we count the R. R. turn table and water tank.

Teacher's Institute. The Teacher's Institute for the first judicial district and Jackson county will be held at Ashland, beginning August 24th and continuing in session August 25, 26 and 27. The state superintendent of Public Instruction and several of the best school workers of the state will be present and assist in the work of the institute. The district consists of the following counties: Klamath, Josephine, Jackson and Lake. All teachers, school officers and friends of education are invited to attend. Wm. F. Foster, School Supt.

Accidentally Shot. T. Shattuck, the magician of Applegate, was accidentally shot while out hunting last Friday near the head of Powell's creek, one of the tributaries of Williams creek.

Hearing that Mr. S. was in town, we called on him personally and this is his statement: "Himself, James H. Moore and his son John Moore were hunting bear. They had killed one bear and were hunting for another. Mr. Shattuck was leading two black dogs through the brush, when J. H. Moore seeing the black dogs, took them to be a bear as one of the dogs was enough ahead of the other to make them look as long as a bear, so Mr. Moore concluded to shoot, but took the precaution to whistle first. Mr. Shattuck heard the whistle but did not answer quick enough, for just as he whistled, the gun went off, killing one dog, shooting the tail off the other one the ball passing through the thick part of Mr. Shattuck's leg below the knee. The parties were eight miles from a wagon road and in a country too rugged to admit a horse, so the wounded man had to crawl and otherwise work his way several hundred yards to a horse."

The wound is not necessarily dangerous, so that in a few days he will be all O. K. again. We are authorized to state that Mr. Shattuck fully exonerates Mr. Moore, knowing it to be purely accidental.

German Carp. While we are trying to improve and make our homes more home-like and attractive, would it not be both ornamental and profitable to add a carp pond to the list of improvements? That is, where water can be had to supply them. Having had some experience with German carp I can safely say that the expense of fitting up and stocking a pond with carp amounts to nothing compared with the pleasure of having a pond on your place full of nice fish, something that all will admire, and to say nothing about the profit that is sure to arise from a carp pond. First you can stock a good large pond with one dozen three or four year old carp. A full grown carp will most always spawn several thousand eggs, and if your pond is free of the carp's enemies you may expect thousands of young carp from one dozen old ones. For family use it is not necessary to make your pond over 30 or 40 feet square. This will be large enough to grow more carp than any ordinary family will use. My pond contains 1/4 of an acre, and I put in this pond fifteen carp. This season I have thousands of young carp from 1/4 of an inch to five inches in length—the smallest being only a few days old, while the larger ones are four or five weeks old. Any one having water to irrigate with can have a carp pond, and the water can be used to supply the pond and allowed to run on through and then be used for irrigating purposes afterwards. Once you try raising carp you will conclude that you can not afford to do without a pond. Don't fail to try it. J. W. WIMER.

Correspondence. August 2. ED. COURIER—Knowing that the tax-payers desire to be fully informed in regard to the financial condition of the county, and believing that some might be deceived in regard to this matter, by reading the exhibit published in the last issue of the COURIER, I desire to make a short explanation, and append some additional facts for their consideration.

The exhibit shows the present indebtedness to be $13,064.36, whereas the actual amount of indebtedness of the county is, and was at the time the exhibit was made, $5,565.68 greater, on account of the contracts entered into previously, and for which the county was liable and will have to pay, and for bills incurred previous to July 1st, 1886, which was allowed and paid by the present County Court since the exhibit was filed, as follows, to-wit:

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Includes Bridge on Applegate ($2,593.00), Court House ($2,400.00), County Jail ($34.00), Bills incurred previous to July 1st, 1886 ($269.68), Interest outstanding warrants ($199.00). Total, $6,886.68.

thus making the total indebtedness $10,681.04. There will possibly be $1,500 collected on account of subscriptions to the court house which is deducted from the amount of indebtedness.

We desire to keep the tax-payers and citizens of the county fully posted in regard to everything connected with county affairs, that affects their interests, and submit the above showing as a full and complete statement of matters mentioned therein, as shown by the records. Respectfully, VOLNEY COLVIG.

Smith River Notes. Crops look well and the farmers expect good returns for their toil. The mill and logging camp are running in full blast, and both doing fine work. Dairy products are looking up, and as Del Norte butter ranks with the best, the dairymen are looking happy.

We are beginning to see the benefit of a daily mail service now, but we think wagons should be put on the mountain, connecting Smith River and Waldo. Chas. Trethton, our enterprising livery stable keeper, has a new stage which he has put on the route between here and Crescent City. Frank Howland manipulates the ribbons. HYDE.

New Lodge. Medford Lodge No. 83, I. O. O. F. was instituted on the evening of July 16th. And installed as officers to-wit: N. G. B. F. Adkins; W. G. J. A. Wells, Secretary; W. F. Williamson, Treasurer; G. H. Has-kins, Warden; R. S. Webb, Conductor; S. Rosenthal, I. G.; B. W. Powell, R. S. N. G.; A. Childers; L. S. N. G.; H. Kinney; R. S. V. G.; Kelley; L. S. V. G.; G. L. Webb; R. S. S.; G. W. Howard; L. S. S.; G. W. Williams, District Deputy; A. D. Helman officiated.

A Proposition. If the religious people of Grant's Pass will select an editor who will discuss religious matters in a spirit of fairness toward all, we will donate the first column on the fourth page of the COURIER to that purpose.—[Ed.]

Twelve hungry stove pipes stick up through the roofs on the block between 5th and 6th and H and front streets. How can we escape a fire. Del Norte Record: The schooner Wing and Wing, arrived at this place yesterday from San Francisco with a load of railroad iron for J. Wenger & Co. He intends to have a railroad from here to his mill at Lake Earl.

The steamer Crescent City sailed for San Francisco on Wednesday with a cargo of lumber and the following passengers: J. H. Jeffrey, Miss Lillie Tucker, H. G. Blake, Mr. Le Fountain, E. M. Berris, Edward Straub, Laura Richert, A. Mason, J. W. Taber, Peter McGlade, Marcellus Wenger, Pueblo Binche, Gus. Sheuser, and 4 Chinamen.

Oregon Sentinel: Any one knowing the present address or whereabouts of one Henry Ryan will confer a favor on his aged mother if they will write to Mrs. Anastasia Ryan, West Keokuk, Lee county, Iowa. Oregon and California papers please copy.

Martin Hoover, well known in this county, having been a resident for over 30 years, died at the county hospital last Tuesday night aged nearly 80 years. On Tuesday afternoon he was in town dressed up in his best clothes and informed us that he came in to get his picture taken so as to send it to his sister in the East, but he failed in this as Mr. Britt was home from town. He then went home, ate a hearty supper and then went to bed, and next morning was found dead, apparently having died of heart disease. Illness and old age forced him to the hospital but he continued work until the day of his death and was respected and mourned by many friends here.

Letter List. The following is a list of letters remaining unfiled for in the Grant's Pass post-office, July 31, 1886: Biberback, Mrs M. McDonald, John L.
